Dear Mrs. Dinnean:

As Chairman of the recent National Celebrities Golf Tournament, I wanted to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation for the excellent job you did as Chairman of the Women's Division during the Tournament.

I sincerely feel that it was due to you and the wonderful group of girls that worked with you that caused much of the success of this Tournament. It was a real pleasure to be associated with you in this venture and I only hope that next year we can work together and make it an even bigger and better Tournament.

Again many many thanks for your wonderful efforts and the best of everything to you.

Sincerely,

Tom Webb

Speaking of Humans—Now Take Golfers

By Irving F. Lash

THOSE having so much as a nodding acquaintance with the puzzling sport called golf might profit here by breezing around the course with a low-handicap amateur psychiatrist—Prof. Robinson Murray. He is a man with steel nerve enough to tackle a question of the ages: "Are golfers human?" This is something that has bothered millions the world over, especially golf widows, as the brooding brides of divot-diggers prefer to be known.

Prof. Murray's name suggests he hails from the bonny shores of the thrifty land where the game was popularized and possibly he is a golfer of sorts himself. His new book (Prentice-Hall, title same as the burning question above) was still damp when received—not with the ink of a recent press run, but with muddy water from the moat guarding the 16th green at Columbia.

The author attempts to answer his brave question by letting his characters speak for themselves, a clever trick employed by those professionals whose chief stock in trade is a couch. It's Prof. Murray's honor, so he splits the middle with that tiny white object golfers pursue so avidly through rain, snow, sleet, etc:

"A golf ball is 1.68 inches in diameter and is sometimes visible to the naked eye, but only sometimes. Golf balls are composed of 60 per cent orneriness and 40 per cent cussedness, or maybe it's the other way around. All golf balls belong to the Society of Amateur Magicians, and their disappearing acts reduce the other members to envious despair. A golf ball is the only object of its size that can lose itself in places where the grass is no thicker than the fuzz on a Delaware peach."

Fabulously wealthy men spend hours of their precious time searching for golf balls that retail at $1 per copy. Can such men be human? To the golfer, a caddy with two good eyes is dearer than a gold brick at Fort Knox. Take Jock MacPherson as he steps onto the first tee. "Laddie," says he to his caddy, "are ye guid at finding balls?" Caddy: "Yes, sir, that I am." Jock: "A-weel, then, go find one and we'll get started."

Losing a golf ball, Prof. Murray reports, can make a man madder than losing a good wife, even one who has a lot more mileage left in her than the golf ball had. The attitude of the golfer looking for a lost ball is: "I don't care if I never see that blanket-blank thing again, but I'd give 10 years of my misbegotten life for the satisfaction of knowing where it is." Human?

If they practiced more, golfers would lose fewer balls, but only the pros practice. In every other sport, a sensible man likes a trial run before sticking his neck out. The batter takes batting practice. The pitcher warms up. The tennis player lobs a few. But the golfer who swears he'd give an arm to break 100 would rather go to the first tee as cold as a rock. His motto is to shoot first and ask afterward such questions as "Why was I born?"

A golfer who practices is accused of taking the game too seriously. Of course, there's the eager-beaver who desperately wants to learn and slaves away on the practice tee with five bushels of balls beside him. A hundred yards out a small caddy, tongue lolling, runs in all directions retrieving the fozzles our hero hits. This fellow really isn't improving his game. All he's doing is perfecting his mistakes.

When Alex slings his clubs over his shoulder and tells his cold-eyed wife he's off to the club, he says he's going out for some "fun." Is he? To see him later, fraught with frustration, limp with exasperation, one wonders. Golfers have been known to go through an entire season without favoring their closest friends with even a frosty smile. The game does require considerable concentration, you know.

For example, Alex shanks a shot 175 yards from a well-trapped green. The ball hits a tree, bounds off a boulder, skips across a footbridge spanning a canyon and suddenly ducks into the cup—for a birdie 3 on a tough par 4. Does Alex smile at his luck? Don't be foolish. He pokes out his chin, glares at his companions and says in acrid tones: "Maybe you guys don't believe it, but that's the way I played it." Could he be human?

Golf attracts all types and is played in all languages, particularly bad language. The most sinful utterance ever attributed to a minister-golfer was when one missed a pitifully short putt. "I don't swear," he said, "but where I step, no grass grows."

Golf balls must be played from where they lie, in theory at least, and Prof.

—Sketches from "Are Golfers Human?"

Murray relates the tale of a chap who sat beside the window in a country club restaurant, preparing to down a dish of tomato soup. Just as he got the spoon to his lips, a ball smashed the window and holed out in his soup. Dripping with displaced vitamins, he jerked back in stunned surprise and started to push away the bowl. Just then a purple-faced golfer, club in hand, stuck his head through the broken window and yelled: "Don't touch it, stupid—I'm playing it from there!"

Human or not—gimme my baffy and cleek, this cloudburst is just what the course needs.

High-Handicap Women Golfers Made Eligible for Title Events

District women golfers with handicaps over 20 will not be forgotten after all, thanks to the efforts of Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, president of the Women's District Golf Association, and some of her committee members.

At yesterday's Executive Committee meeting the 21-26 handicap group was made eligible for the District championship the week of June 23 at Prince Georges and also for the team matches that will start in the spring.

Mrs. Owen Hines of Washington Golf and Country Club will sponsor a cup tournament for the 21-26 handicap class, as will the Belle Haven Women's Golf Committee. Both of these events will be officially accepted at an open meeting, to be held March 31.

When the handicap classes were reduced at the winter meeting—A—0-10, B—11-15, C—16-20—that left the former class C players without a competitive event. However, the players in that class did not take it sitting down and now they are eligible for almost as many events as before.

Committee appointments for 1952 that were approved at yesterday's meeting at Columbia:

Handicaps—Chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Dennis of Washington; Class A, Mrs. L. H. Todd of Army Navy; Class B, Mrs. Charles Thomason of Argyle; Class C, Mrs. George E. Leyser of Bethesda.

Women Golfers Honor Mrs. Dinneen With Gift of Trophy

Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, president of the Women's District Golf Association, has permanent possession of the President's Plate golf trophy she has won for three straight years.

The usual action to retire the 19-year-old trophy and give it to Mrs. Dinneen permanently was taken at yesterday's spring meeting of the WDGA at the Washington Golf and Country Club.

The motion to give the trophy to Mrs. Dinneen was made by Mrs. Frank Keefer, original donor of the plate in 1932 and a three-time president of the WDGA. Mrs. Dinneen yesterday started her second term as president.

The tournament at which the President's Plate is awarded annually ends the women's golf season here and is held at the home course of the current president. A new trophy will be purchased and put in competition this year.

Yesterday's luncheon meeting was attended by 141 persons. Guest speakers were Martin F. McCarthy, president of the Middle Atlantic Golf Association; Dr. Robert Kelty, secretary of the MAGA; Frank McArdle, handicap chairman for the District Golf Association, and John Feeney, president of the District Golf Association.

McArdle discussed the adoption of a uniform handicap system for both men and women and also suggested the women abolish their present system of two sets of handicaps, one at their home club and one for WDGA events.

TEE TO GREEN

By Merrell Whittlesey

Of the two major rules changes adopted by the United States Golf Association this year, the elimination of the stymie means little to the average golfer. Most golfers never had occasion to play stymies, and they thought it was objectionable only because the top amateurs or club pros did them so. But the other revised rule, which makes out-of-bounds shot cost a stroke and distance—or two strokes—instead of a stroke only will mean much more to the average player, who cannot control his hooks and slices, than it will to the more skilled player who has a pretty good idea where the ball is going. The stroke-and-distance assessment for an out-of-bounds shot is a very timely topic at the winter meetings of the clubs and the various associations. The USGA strongly advises against making a rule to ease the out-of-bounds penalty, but it stands to reason the penalty will be a much later hardship at clubs marked with tight fairways and bordered by trees than at other courses that are wide open.

Indian Spring, for instance, has all parallel fairways out of bounds last year, and on 13 of the 18 holes the club members had to play with caution or lose a stroke. Burning Tree, on the other hand, has only one hole, the 15th, where there is much chance of going out, and that would be on the third shot, where out of bounds over the green. With four exceptions, Indian Spring is going to do away with out-of-bounds penalty on parallel fairways this year. The exceptions will be in cases where it would be more advantageous to get the hole up the opposite fairway to get a clearer shot at the green.

Kenwood has four holes where parallel fairways are out of bounds, in addition to five others where a slight error will put one over the fence. However, the Kenwood Road Club officials are going to study national and local action to the revised rule before making any changes.

Montgomery will have a major problem if the club loses about half the way up the long 14th hole for a proposed widening of the road that parallels the hole. The sixth already is known as the toughest par 4 in the District, and that would move the out of bounds in closer.

Manor has a serious problem on the first hole, the worst on any course from a psychological standpoint for a tight fairway. Several homes have been constructed to the immediate right of the first hole and out of bounds stakes have been placed just off the fairway. There's talk of moving the first tee slightly to ease the situation.

Manor is the only course in town where all of its out of bounds penalties are to the right, on 1-4-9-10-11-15 and 18. Thus a hooker, unless he's southpaw, shouldn't have much trouble.

If you can avoid a quick hook off the first tee at Washington Golf and Country Club you're fairly safe for the entire round, but there's trouble at the other Virginia clubs. Army-Navy has 10 holes with off-club-property out of bounds stakes and Belle Haven has nine, plus the 15th hole, where it's out of bounds in the adjoining fairway to the right.

Congressional has out of bounds only to the right on No. 4 on the first nine, but from 14 through 17 it's out to the left, and fairly easy to do. Woodmont has only three out of bounds holes and they are rather extreme. Argyle has off-the-property penalties on five holes, a couple of them rather dangerous.

It's possible to go out on seven holes at Prince Georges, but probably more balls go out on the long par five fourth than all the rest put together. Many strokes were lost there by the pro golfers in the last Washington Star Open. Bethesda has one parallel fairway penalty—the 14th fairway is out of bounds playing the 11th hole—and three where over the fence is out.

The more extreme penalty will not bother the public links golfers too much. Roads and bridge paths are the only out of bounds territory at Rock Creek and there's not much action except on the 8th and 9th holes. Only the Hains Point road is out of bounds at East Potomac, and Fort Dupont has only a par three where anyone is likely to leave the course.

With the exception of Manor, most of the out of bounds territory is to the left of the holes, which is a pretty good reason to get rid of that hook—or is that what you've been trying to do for years?

HAPPY NEW YEAR! STYMIE NOW DEAD BUGABOO IN GOLF

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—It's goodbye, and good riddance, at midnight to the stymie in golf.

At the stroke of 12, the pesky old stymie becomes a dead duck under the new uniform code of golf.

The abolition of the stymie was the major change made in the rules when the U. S. Golf association and the Royal and Ancient golf club of St. Andrews, Scotland, got together last May. The new rules go into effect Jan. 1 and will be the same the world over.

Gooseneck putters and other trick putters used by Americans got the okay from the golfing brass.

Another change, designed to speed up play, prohibits all practice strokes on a round, including retrying putts after holing out. The penalty for violation in medal play will be two strokes.

T.-H. GOLF CUP TO MRS. STREIT

Mrs. Howard Takes Low Gross Award

BY MAURY FITZGERALD

Mrs. Paul H. Streit, whose major general husband commands Walter Reed Hospital and whose son is fighting in Korea, celebrated "Mothers day" a little prematurely yesterday by winning the 21st playing of the annual Times-Herald Cup tournament with a net score of 74.

The grandmother from Army Navy Country club not only won the featured low net award but tied with Mrs. Rex J. Howard of Kenwood for the low gross as well. And her round over the hilly Washington Golf and Country club course was, as she put it "the finest I have played in a long time."

Mrs. Streit, a member of the women's team at the Virginia service club, was out in 43 and back in 40 to win the coveted 18-hole Women's District Golf Association sponsored tournament. Her card, slightly tarnished by a quartet of sixes, was highlighted by a birdie on the tough par five 15th and a four on the tough finishing 18th hole.

Mrs. Howard Gross Winner

Women's District Golf association rules forbid more than one prize to a contestant and Mrs. Streit's decision to take the more important low net trophy automatically made Mrs. Howard the low gross winner. And in winning the low gross award Mrs. Howard produced a very unusual card.

The No. 4 player on Kenwood's Women's District Golf association championship team, was out in 42 and back in 41, despite an eight, a seven and three sixes. Starting 4-4, Mrs. Howard was suddenly seized with a bad case of shanking at the near disastrous third hole where, after being just short of the green with her second, she shanked three

Three more players re nets of 80 and when the matching system was again, Mrs. Robert Addie, the Times-Herald sports columnist and former four-time tennis champion, was fifth 86-6-80, and Mrs. J. R. Mrs. Johnson Cards Net 77 To Take Keefer Cup Lead

BY MAURY FITZGERALD

With a dew-like rain on the grass and Chevy Chase club's lengthy course playing its longest, Mrs. Richard Johnson fired an 84 over her home bailiwick to have the low score of the day in yesterday's opening round of the 36-hole Women's District Golf association tournament for the coveted Keefer cup.

Mrs. R. Johnson

Beginning her round with the "Dew Dusters," Mrs. Johnson, a member of the Connecticut avenue club's team which is currently in second place in the city team championship, was out in 44 and back in 40. Her handicap allowance of seven strokes gave her a net of 77 to make her the leader in that division of the tournament, too.

Mrs. Johnson leads her clubmate, Mrs. Landra B. Platt, into today's final round by two strokes for the featured net trophy. Mrs. Platt, another early starter, did a 40 on the tougher front nine but slumped to a 45 on the much easier journey home to have a gross round of 85. A handicap of six strokes gave her a net total of 79.

Mrs. Barnicle Third

Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional pulled into third place near-disastrous eight on the River Road club player, with a near disastrous eight on the eighth hole, was out in 46 and back in 42 for a gross 88, which was reduced further by an eight stroke handicap.

In fourth place came Mrs. Orin Lane, a newcomer from Washington Golf and Country club with a net 82. Getting off to a 6-6-6 start on the first three holes, Mrs. Lane managed to get to the turn in 45 and returned in 44 for a gross of 89.

Name Players Falter

Playing summer rules and the wetness of the course took its toll of name players. District champion Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg had a 90 and her Kenwood clubmate, Mrs. Betty P. Meckley, former U. S. Senior champion, had a 91. Scores and pairings for today:

Chevy Chase Women Monopolize Honors In Keefer Cup Golf

Chevy Chase Club's women golfers apparently have decided that the Keefer Cup tournament should be a Chevy Chase institution.

It was donated, of course, by Mrs. Frank R. Keefer of Chevy Chase in her third year as president of the Women's District Golf Association in 1932. It has been won by Chevy Chase players five of the past six years.

The host club not only supplied the winner yesterday in Mrs. Richard Johnson and the runner-up in Mrs. Landra Platt, but for the second straight year the same Chevy Chase player, Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, won low gross.

Mrs. Johnson, last year's Star Cup champion in Class A, became one of the few Keefer Cup contestants to win after leading at the halfway mark. Mrs. Johnson had 84 the first day and 88 the second and deducted seven handicap strokes from each round for a net 158.

Mrs. Ferriday came back with the best round of the tournament yesterday, an excellent 82 over the long course, including a 7 on the third hole, to win gross with 86-82-168. Last year Mrs. Ferriday had 167.

With the exception of Mrs. Ferriday and a fine 83 by Argyle's Betty Garber, scoring was even higher yesterday than Wednesday as only three of the prize winners bettered their first-day scores. The oddest round of the day was by Mrs. Orren Lane of Belle Haven, who was in all kinds of trouble as she went out in 51, but came back in 39 despite a pair of 3-putt winners.

Net prize winners, with their two rounds, total handicap and net score:

Mrs. Landra Platt of Chevy Chase, 85-88-12, 161; Mrs. Lane, 89-90-14, 169; Mrs. J. L. Barnicle of Congressional, 88-95-16, 167; Mrs. Arnold Wilcox of Chevy Chase, the depending champion, 92-92-16; Mrs. E. P. Moore of Chevy Chase, 92-92-16, 168; Miss Garber, 92-88-14, 169, and Mrs. R. D. Watson of Manor, 92-91-14, 169. The 1949 winner, Mrs. Richard Foley of Argyle, was drawn out of the prize list after shooting 92-91-14, 169.

MRS. BARNICLE, MARTIN TIE AT INDIAN SPRING

Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional and Mrs. George Martin of Manor fired net rounds of 74 yesterday at Indian Spring Country club to cause a playoff for the Women's District Golf association Star cup.

Mrs. Barnicle and Mrs. Martin both reported gross scores of 81 and both had handicap allowances of seven strokes. And, oddly enough, the Congressional player took a double-bogey at the 17th and Mrs. Martin returned the favor on the 18th.

Low gross honors in the 18-hole tournament went to District champion Betty Gerber, who fired the third 81 of the day. Second gross with an 82 went to Mrs. D. H. Henderson of Congressional.

Mrs. Allen Sherier of Bethesda captured third low net with 84-8-76 after a card matching huddle. Mrs. Oliver Young of Prince Georges, 84-8-76, was drawn into fourth place.

Three players were bunched together with nets of 77 but after another card matching session, Lois Gladding, Prince Georges, 87-10-77, took fifth; Mrs. J. C. Howard, Argyle, 87-10-77, finished sixth, and Mrs. J. W. Godfrey of Congressional, 85-8-77, was drawn out of the prize list.

Mrs. Martin's Early Lead Holds in Star Cup Golf

Mrs. George Martin, who had to play off three times the last time she tied for one of the Women's District Golf Association's cup tournaments, made sure she wouldn't have to come back in the playoff for the Class A Evening Star Cup yesterday.

The Manor Club player had a 9-stroke lead on Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional after nine holes, and won the playoff at Indian Spring with 86, minus 7 handicap strokes for a net 79. Mrs. Barnicle, of Congressional, had 93-7-86.

Mrs. Barnicle was in trouble with sevens on the first and fourth holes and was out in 51 but back in 42. Mrs. Martin lost a chance to equal the 81s they both shot in the tournament proper by taking nine on the 13th.

Mrs. Martin Takes Star Cup Playoff

Mrs. George Martin of Manor won the playoff for the Women's District Golf association-sponsored Star cup yesterday at Indian Spring Country club, defeating Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional by seven strokes. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Barnicle tied for low net honors in the event last week with 81-8-73. And yesterday the winner posted a card of 44-42-86, while Mrs. Barnicle, with seven's on the first and fourth holes, was 51-42-93.

Mrs. Bailey Posts Net 75 For NBC Cup

Mrs. George Bailey jr. of Washington Golf and Country club, captured the Women's District Golf association sponsored NBC cup yesterday at Army Navy Country club with a net card of 75.

The Virginia club player reported a gross score of 80 to tie for the gross award. Her decision to use her five-stroke handicap and take the low net trophy automatically made Betty Garber, the city champion, the sole possessor of the low gross award.

Second low net in the 18-hole medal play event went to Mrs. Orren Lane of Belle Haven, with 85-7-78. The second gross, an 86, was shot by Mrs. Jack Smith, who was runnerup to Miss Garber in the District championships.

Mrs. Roderick Watson of Manor, 86-7-79, was third low net. Five players were bunched together at nets of 81 but only one of them—Mrs. C. B. Howard, Argyle, 91-10-81—made the select circle.

Drawn out of the prize list were: Mrs. H. L. Lacey, Manor, 90-9-81; Mrs. D. H. Henderson, Congressional, 87-6-81; Mrs. Richard Foley, Argyle, 88-7-81, and Mrs. A. G. Simmons, Washington, 91-10-81.

Mrs. Kreuzburg Skips Gross Prize to Shoot In Corby Cup Playoff

The three-way playoff for the Women's District Golf Association's Corby Cup tournament on Monday will include Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, the 1951 District women's champion, who passed up low gross prize yesterday for a crack at the cup.

Mrs. Kreuzburg posted an 84 over her home Columbia Country Club course and deducted four a 43-44-87, minus 7 for a 80. The others in the tie are Mrs. Roderick Watson of Manor with a 43-44-87, minus 7 for a 80, and Mrs. F. O. Hunter of Chevy Chase, 46 and 44 for a 90, minus 10 handicap for a net 80.

Scoring was the highest of the season as 26 of the 54 players who started did not turn in cards. Mrs. Kreuzburg had a pair of 42s, including par on all the par-3 holes.

Betty Garber won her third straight low gross award since succeeding Mrs. Kreuzburg as District champion with an 86. Second low gross went to Mrs. Jack Smith of Prince Georges, Miss Garber's final-round opponent in the city tournament, who had an 88.

Other net prize winners were Capt. Lucille Busch, U. S. A. F., from Argyle, 91-10-81; Mrs. Henry Riley of Washington G. & C. C., 92-10-82, and Mrs. A. G. Simmons of Washington, 92-10-82.

The hard-luck player of the day was Mrs. James Swink of Belle Haven, who came to the last hole needing only a 5 to win the cup or a 6 to tie, but didn't know it. She became entangled in the trees to the right of the 18th fairway and took a 9, not only to miss the tie, but finish out of the prize list.

LOIS GLADDING POST GOLF CUP VICTOR WITH 72

Lois Gladding of Prince Georges won the Women's District Golf Association Post cup net with a 72 yesterday at Kenwood Golf and Country Club, but Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Chevy Chase stole the show with a gross 78.

Miss Gladding produced a 42-40-82 gross and used a 10 stroke handicap to arrive at the winning net figure, while Mrs. Ferriday was doing a 36-42-78.

Mrs. Jack Smith, another Prince Georges entry, captured the second gross with 38-46-84, while second net was being taken by Mrs. Jules Friedenson of Woodmont with 83-10-78. Also finishing with a net of 78 but losing out via the W.D.G.A. card matching system was Mrs. K. S. Giles of Indian Spring, who had 85-7-78.

Miss Gladding Takes Final WDGA Event

The class A tournament schedule of the Women's District Golf Association was concluded yesterday with the annual Post Cup tournament, won by Lois Gladding of Prince Georges with an 82, minus 10 handicap for a net 72 at Kenwood Country Club.

Miss Gladding, also a star bowler, has won other WDGA cup tournaments. The winner was out in 42 and back in 40.

An excellent 36 on the front nine helped Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Chevy Chase take gross honors with a 78. Mrs. Ferriday played the back nine as her first in 42, and then the more difficult front nine in one over men's par.

Mrs. Jack Smith of Prince Georges was second low gross winner for the second straight Friday (last week was the Corby Cup) with an 84. Second net went to Mrs. Jules Friedenson of Woodmont with 88-10-78.

Other prize winners were Mrs. K. S. Giles of Indian Spring, 85-7-78; Mrs. Morris Kraft of Woodmont, 89-10-79; Mrs. M. J. Tortinski, the defending champion from Army Navy, 90-10-80; Mrs. D. H. Henderson of Congressional, 86-6-80; Mrs. Howard Woster of Prince Georges, 90-10-80; Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle, making her class A debut after starting the season in C, 91-10-81; Mrs. Paul Streit of Army Navy, 87-6-81, and Mrs. J. R. Holzapple of Army Navy, 91-10-81. Mrs. Richard Foley of Argyle was drawn out with 88-7-81.

Rain Forces Columbia To Postpone Women's Corby Cup Tourney

Rain today closed the Columbia Country Club to play and forced a postponement of the Women's District Golf Association's Corby Cup tournament, an annual class A event.

Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, president of the WDGA, will announce a new date after conferring with Fred McLeod, the Columbia pro. Additional entries will be accepted for the new date.

Thus Columbia, which had two tournaments scheduled today, wound up with none. A pro-member event previously had been postponed because of a conflict with the Corby Cup.

Mrs. Watson Wins Playoff For Corby Golf Trophy

Mrs. R. D. Watson of Manor Club shook off a poor start yesterday to win the three-way playoff in the Women's District Golf Association's Corby Cup tournament. Mrs. Watson had an 86 at Columbia and deducted a seven handicap for a net 79. Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg of Manor had 90-4-86 for second net and Mrs. F. O. Hunter of Chevy Chase picked up in the playoff and took third net. They tied last Friday with net 80s.

Mrs. Kreuzburg has a four handicap to seven for Mrs. Watson, but the former picked up those strokes on the first three holes.

But Mrs. Watson played some of her best golf, including one-under par golf on the par threes, with three pars and a deuce on the 13th.

Lois Gladding, Weekend Golfer, Wins Post Cup

By Larry Laurent
Post Reporter

Miss Lois Gladding, secretary for a Washington attorney, shot an 82—10—72 yesterday at Kenwood to win the Women's District Golf Association Class A Washington Post Cup. Miss Gladding is a member at Prince Georges.

A record field for this year, 67 persons, competed for the 20-year-old cup. Competition was restricted to persons with handicaps of 10 or less strokes.

Miss Gladding, who describes herself as "a spinster of indeterminate age," had played in only one other WDGA tournament this season. She played the front side of Kenwood's course in 42 shots, five over par.

With the help of a 12-foot birdie putt on the eleventh hole, she played the par 38 back nine in 40. Miss Gladding hit her woods and irons well and averaged two putts for each hole. Usually just a weekend golfer, she was able to compete because she is on vacation.

She has been a golfer for 20 years.

Mrs. Edward C. Ferriday, jr., of Chevy Chase, won the low gross prize with a 78. Mrs. Jack Smith of Prince Georges was the runner-up with a 38—46—84.

Mrs. Ferriday started from the tenth tee and started badly with a bogey five. She needed 42 shots for the back nine. However, she had three birdies and two bogeys on the front nine for a 36.

The defending champion, Mrs. M. J. Torlinski of Army Navy, finished fifth with a 90—10—80. Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle, who rose from the C handicap class to the A handicap class this year, took the eighth prize. This was the first class A tournament for Mrs. Cush and marked the eighth time this season that she has collected a prize.

Field of 43 to Enter Women's Golf Tourney

The Women's District Golf Association Washington Post Cup will be up Friday, with a field of 43 competing at the Kenwood Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. M. J. Torlinski of Army Navy will be back to defend her crown. Action will start at 8:45 a.m. Star 8-19-52

Mrs. Voigt took time off from her Government position to win the WMAL Class B Cup, an annual event of the Women's District Golf Association, with an 85, minus 12 handicap strokes for a net 73 yesterday at Congressional. The 85 was the same score with which she won The Star Class A Cup at Manor in 1950.

Mrs. Rosen's Net of 69 In Third Golf Tourney Brings Her Star Cup

Mrs. Irving Rosen, who took up golf three years ago so as not to become a golf widow, won The Star Cup for Class B handicap players yesterday, and now she is threatening to make a golf widower of her husband.

The Indian Spring player, competing in only her third tournament, posted an 84, her lowest score made away from her home club, and deducted 15 handicap strokes for a net 69 at Manor Country Club.

Mrs. Rosen's long game is the envy of the women golfers. "She hits the ball like a man," they say, but usually wildness gets her in trouble. However, at Manor, where there is a penalty for wildness on most of the holes, Mrs. Rosen was splitting the middle. She reached several of the long par 4 holes (men's par) in two shots.

Started Playing in 1949.

Mrs. Rosen, a pupil of Bobby Bowers, had played in only one Class C tournament and one in Class B prior to The Star Cup. She was out in 41 and back in 43 for her 84. She started playing golf in the summer of 1949 but played very little last year due to the birth of the Rosens' first child.

Becky Feller, Justice Department employe and the women's club champion at Bethesda Country Club, appeared to have The Star Cup won with one of the lowest scores in the history of Class B events, an 82, minus 11 handicap strokes for a net 71. Her score stood until Mrs. Rosen's finish, but although nosed out for the cup she won low gross.

Miss Feller is another comparative newcomer to the game, and like Mrs. Rosen, she has learned fast. It was her best 18-hole round, and when she came back in 39 it was her first time under 40.

Miss Feller also started playing in 1949 and her best score, that year was 114. The next year she came down to 97, then 83 last year.

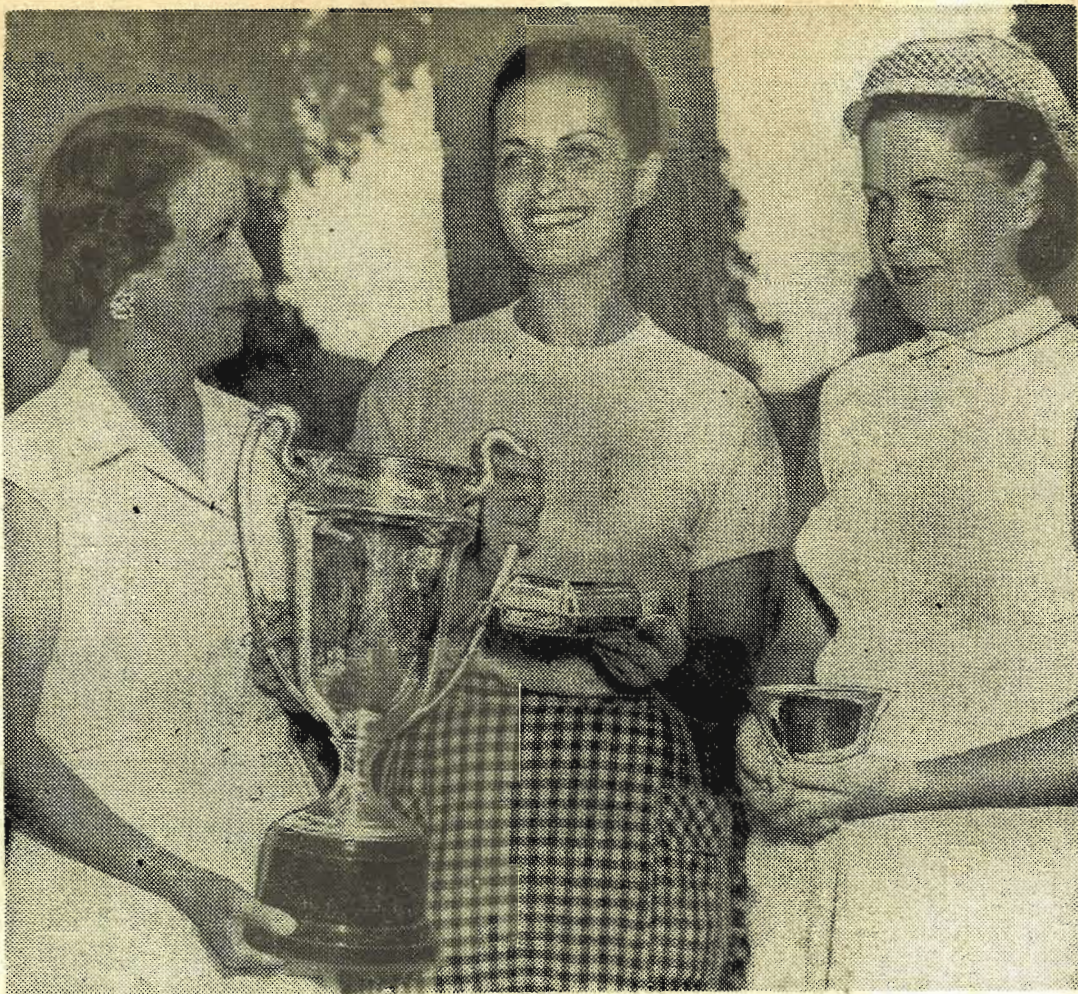

With Miss Feller taking the low gross prize, Mrs. Rosen's score was low by six strokes in the net division. Mrs. F. N. Curley of Washington G&CC, with a 43 and 47 for 90, minus 15 handicap strokes for a net 75, won second place after matching cards with Mrs. Philip Israel of Chevy Chase, who had 45 and 42 for 87, minus 12 for a net 75.

Mrs. Brownell Fourth.

Mrs. J. V. Brownell, mother of the District Amateur champion, Bobby, and five times a grandmother, won fourth net with 88-12, 76. Mrs. Brownell's 88 was the third best score of the starting field of 72 players.

Other net prize winners, in order, were Mrs. G. W. Murphy of Army Navy, 89-13-76; Mrs. E. V. Brumfiel of Congressional, 89-12-77; Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle, the season's most consistent prize winner, 90-12-78, and Mrs. Morton Samler of Woodmont, 89-11-78. The latter came to the ninth hole needing a five to break 40, but had tree trouble and took a nine.

The net 78s matched out of the prize list were: Mrs. George Voigt of Prince Georges, 91-13-78; Mrs. Robert Keebler of Kenwood, 92-14-78; Mrs. Eli Amanuel of Indian Spring, 92-14-78; Mrs. Woodlief Thomas of Chevy Chase, 89-11-78; Mrs. James Geddes of Congressional, 91-13-78, and Mrs. J. A. Brooks of Belle Haven, 90-12-78.

Improved Indian Spring Player Wins Class C Women's Title

The many hours put in by Pros Mel Shorey and Bobby Bowers on the teaching tee at Indian Spring are paying dividends.

When Mrs. Mel Rose won the Women's District Golf Association's Class C Cup tournament yesterday, that made it two cup triumphs in the same week for their Indian Spring players. Mrs. Irving Rosen won the Class B Star Cup Tuesday.

Mrs. Rose, one of the most improved players at the club, according to Shorey, posted a 96 and deducted 20 handicap strokes for a winning net 76. Mrs. Margo Davis of Argyle won low gross with a 95.

Mrs. Harry Rod of Indian Spring was runnerup in net scoring with 98-20-78. Other prize winners, in order after cards were matched, were: Mrs. Victor Deinlein of Bethesda, 96-17-79; Mrs. Upton Haley of Belle Haven, 97-18-79; Mrs. Luke Beale of Argyle, 97-17-80; Mrs. Jack Howard of Belle Haven, 97-16-71, and Mrs. Arthur Hoffman of Belle Haven, 99-18-71.

Mrs. William Shannon of Columbia, with 98-16-82, won in a four-way tie for the last net prize. The losers were Mrs. Burton Ostrow of Woodmont, 102-20-82; Mrs. Jerome Nash of Manor, 101-19-82, and Mrs. E. F. Dut-ton of Kenwood, 102-20-82.

Mrs. Brawner Wins Harris Cup In Golf Tie Playoff at Argyle

Mrs. E. M. Brawner of Columbia finally has possession of the Elizabeth Harris Cup as winner of the Women's District Golf Association Class C championship.

She scored 97-19-78 yesterday in a playoff at Argyle to win over Mrs. Hill Houston of Prince Georges, who had 103-20-83. They had tied the previous day with net 77s.

24-74 to win at Columbia yesterday over Mrs. Carl MacCartee, 98-20-78. Net leaders were Mrs. L. G. Pray, Mrs. M. Fillius and Mrs. Irving Swanson, all with 79s. Tied atop Class B were Mrs. L. E. Hutchison, 107-31-76, and Mrs. C. P. Redick, 108-32-76. The Class C winner was Mrs. Karl F. Kellerman, 112-36-76.

Women's First Class D Tourney Finds 3 Players Breaking 100

The first tournament in the Women's District Golf Association history for Class D players found three of the 21-26 handicap group able to break the 100 mark in the Mrs. Owen Hines Bowl competition yesterday at Washington Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. M. G. Britt of Belle Haven won the Hines Bowl with a 99, minus 25 handicap strokes for a net 74. It tied her lowest score and accounted for her first trophy. Mrs. Britt has been playing only three years.

Mrs. W. J. Nolan of Argyle won low gross with a 99 and in something new in WDGA competition a second gross prize was added and was won by Mrs. Anthony Librento of Prince Georges with a 102. Second gross awards will be made for the next three tournaments in an experiment.

Mrs. Robert A. McDonald won second net with 99-21-78, and other net prize winners, in order, were Mrs. Robert Borrowman of Belle Haven, 105-25-80; Mrs. I. Laskin of Indian Spring, 103-23-80; Mrs. C. C. Clarke of Washington, 105-24-81, and Mrs. L. E. Hutchison of Columbia, 106-25-81.

Prince Georges and Argyle, division winners in the second-team play, will meet in a playoff at Washington Golf and Country Club today for the second-team title.

Kenwood is expected to clinch the first-team title in the last day of play at Woodmont. Third teams play at Kenwood, but it probably will take the final matches Friday at Bethesda to decide the close race.

Harris Cup Playoff Won By Brawner

A 19-handicap grandmother, who only recently took up golf as a pastime, gave some of her more seasoned competition a lesson in consistency yesterday in winning the Elizabeth Harris cup.

Playing the Argyle Country club course the second straight day, Mrs. E. N. Brawner, of Columbia, exceeded her Thursday score by only one stroke in beating Mrs. Hill Houston, of Prince Georges, in the playoff for the cup, emblematic of supremacy in one of the area's oldest links events for women.

Mrs. Brawner fired a 97-19-78, while Mrs. Houston was fashioning a 103-20-83. They had tied for the cup Thursday over the wind-swept course with net 77s in the Class C event sponsored by the Women's District Golf association.

Mrs. Passink Scores Net of 70 to Capture Class C Golf Honors

Mrs. Clare Passink, a new member of the Army Navy Club, played some Class A golf to win the Women's District Golf Association's Class C cup tournament yesterday at Kenwood Country Club.

A field of 73 competed in the event for players in the 16-20 handicap class. It was the second straight victory for a service club player in a WDGA event, with Mrs. Paul Streit of Army Navy previously having won the Times-Herald Cup.

Mrs. Passink, who played in Lancaster, Pa., for the last several seasons, was out in 43 and back in 44 for an 87 and deducted 17 handicap strokes for a net 70. Mrs. Passink's 87 was the lowest score of the day by six strokes, her first under 90 in competition, and probably will move her into Class C. The winner knocked in a 50-foot putt for a par 4 on the difficult first hole and made several other putts almost that long.

Mrs. Robert Creasey of Congressional, last year's winner with a 89-23-66, won gross honors with a 93 after Mrs. John Connolly of Washington G&CC took second net with 93-19-74 so that playoff for gross would not be necessary.

Hill Manor, 99-20-79; Mrs. Arthur Hoffman of Belle Haven, 99-19-80; Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle, 96-18-80; Mrs. A. L. Cochran of Manor, 100-20-80, and Mrs. Fred Hew of Columbia, 98-17-81.

Mrs. Louis Watzman, Indian Spring, 101-23-81; 12. Mrs. H. A. Rudd, Bethesda, 97-16-81; 13. Mrs. Frank Evans, Kenwood, 98-17-81. Honorable mention: Mrs. Jerome Nash, Manor, 99-18-81; Mrs. Albert Cochran, Manor, 100-19-81.

Argyle Woman Golfer May Jump Two Classes

Mrs. Ferriday, Mrs. Smith Tie for Women's Golf Medal

Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, jr., of Chevy Chase and Mrs. Jack Smith of Prince Georges tied for medalist honors yesterday in the qualifying round of the Women's District Golf Association Championship at Prince Georges.

Mrs. Ferriday had a 43-41—84; Mrs. Smith, 42-42—84. Women's par on the 6071-yard course is 38-37—75. They playoff for the medal next Monday.

The 53 entries in the tournament played through day-long rains. The rain, many of the women complained, made the course extra long and the greens unpredictable. Mrs. Ferriday, for instance, had four putts on the twelfth green.

Mrs. Betty Meckley, former United States Senior Women's champion and one of the finest putters in this section, also took four putts on the twelfth hole.

Match play begins today and continues through Friday.

Mrs. Meckley Shows Old Form In Bid for District Golf Title

Regardless of what happens through the remainder of the District Women's golf championship, three-time champion Mrs. Betty Meckley has shown she still must be respected.

Until the District tournament, Mrs. Meckley had one of the poorest seasons of her competitive career. But in weather hardly suited to a former U. S. Women's senior champion, and without her favorite stick, a 9-iron, Mrs. Meckley is a semifinalist with two impressive triumphs.

Mrs. Meckley met Argyle's club champion, Betty Garber, today at Prince Georges after defeating Mrs. Charles Egenroad of Washington, 6 and 4, yesterday. Miss Garber won, 1 up over Mrs. Paul Streit of Army Navy as the latter's rally fell one hole short.

The previous day Mrs. Meckley had scored a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, jr., of Chevy Chase, co-medalist and tournament co-favorite. Mrs. Meckley has regained the putting touch that brought her all area titles.

Mrs. Meckley Paces Advance In W.D.G.A. Golf Tourney

Mrs. Betty Meckley of Kenwood, former U. S. Senior Women's champion, ousted co-medalist Mrs. E. C. Ferriday jr. of Chevy Chase, 2 and 1, as the Women's District Golf association held the opening round of match play in its championship at Prince Georges.

Mrs. Meckley, regaining her putting touch which deserted her Monday when she qualified with a 91, had five one-putt greens yesterday. Her score for the 18 holes was 79, four over par.

Defending champion Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg of Columbia also advanced, eliminating Mrs. Ora Emge of the host club, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Jack Smith, whose 84 tied Mrs. Ferriday for the medal, also gained the semifinals, defeating Mrs. Arthur Sims, one-up, after 20 holes.

Others gaining the quarter-final round were Mrs. Rex Howard of Kenwood, Mrs. T. V. Milder of Manor, Mrs. Charles Egenroad of Washington, Miss Betty Garber of Argyle and Mrs. Paul Streit of Army Navy.

Luck of Draw Favors Mrs. Kreuzberg in District Title Golf

Match play was under way today in the District Women's golf championship at Prince Georges with the luck of the draw appearing to favor Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg, the defending champion from Columbia Country Club.

Betty Garber, recent finalist in the Mid-Atlantic women's tournament; Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, jr., of Chevy Chase, one of the top-ranked players and her opponent of today, Mrs. Betty Meckley of Kenwood, a former champion, are among the title threats in the bracket opposite that of the champion. Mrs. Charles Egenroad of Washington Golf and Country Club also is in this bracket.

Mrs. Kreuzberg qualified with a 90 in the rain yesterday and today met Mrs. Ora Emge of the host club.

Mrs. Ferriday and the host club champion, Mrs. Jack Smith, tied for the medal with 84s and will play off next Monday. Mrs. Smith is in the same bracket with Mrs. Kreuzberg.

Mrs. Ferriday also tied for the medal last year at Woodmont with Miss Garber and won by default when the latter was called out of town.

Championship flight pairings:
Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg, Columbia (90) vs. Mrs. Ora Emge, Prince Georges (91); Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud, Kenwood (90) vs. Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood (94); Mrs. Jack Smith, Washington (84) vs. Mrs. Arthur Sims, Woodmont (94); Mrs. Henry Lebowitz, Woodmont (91) vs. Mrs. T. V. Kreuzberg Wins on 19th

Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg of the Columbia Country Club defeated Mrs. Rex Howard of Kenwood on the nineteenth hole in the most exhausting match of yesterday's quarterfinals of the Women's District championship at Prince Georges.

The heat was so intense that the players ate salt tablets and drank pints of water, and the temperature caused scores to run high although Mrs. Kreuzberg shot 85 to Mrs. Howard's 86.

Mrs. Howard sent the match to the nineteenth by hitting a fine wood second shot close to the pin for a winning birdie 3 on the eighteenth hole.

On the extra hole, Mrs. Kreuzberg hit a No. 4 iron 6 feet from the hole and barely missed her birdie. Mrs. Howard's second landed in a sand trap and she took losing 5.

Miss Betty Garber, Argyle, defeated Mrs. Paul H. Streit, Army Navy, 2 up; Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, defeated Mrs. T. V. Wilder, Manor, 8-7, and Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. Charles Egenroad, Washington, 6-4.

Today's semifinal pairings:
10:00—Mrs. Kreuzberg vs. Mrs. Smith.
10:10—Mrs. Meckley vs. Miss Garber.

Mrs. Wilder Enters
Round of Eight by
Golf Tourney Upset

It's seldom that a new name advances as far as the quarter-finals of the District women's golf championship, but there's one here today—Mrs. T. V. Wilder—and it's a name you might keep in mind.

Now Mrs. Wilder, who three years ago reduced her handicap from the District maximum to a class A status, isn't making any title claims. The Manor Club player faced the club champion from the host Prince Georges and the co-medalist today in Mrs. Jack Smith and was the underdog.

But Mrs. Wilder's interest in golf and her moderate success in a short time has encouraged her 4-year-old daughter Debby to become enthused. A Kensington Junior High School student, Debby now can hit the ball farther than her mother and last week shot a 95 as she teamed with her father to win Manor's father-and-daughter championship.

Daughter Promising Player.

Mrs. Wilder took a lesson from Sam Snead this spring with Debby as a spectator. The daughter has taken lessons from Clagett Stevens, the Manor pro and the latter agrees Debby has a lot of promise. It has been so long since the District developed a junior girl player that a prospective one is extremely encouraging. Debby might be the title flight player of the near future.

Mrs. Wilder "hacked around", as she said, for several seasons, but didn't play seriously until three years ago. It was her luck to reduce her handicap more than any other player in the Women's District Golf Association the year trophy for that honor was discontinued.

Now she's a quarterfinalist in the city championship after qualifying via the trying playoff route and defeating Mrs. Henry Lebovitz of Woodmont, 3 and 1, in the first round.

Mrs. Meckley's Golf Best.

The best golf of the first round was played by the 1930-31-35 champion, Kenwood's Mrs. Betty Meckley, who could become the second player to win the title four times. The only one at present is Mrs. A. B. Bower, now a Virginian.

Mrs. Meckley's out nine of 37 and par golf on the 10th and 11th holes gave her a commanding lead over the co-medalist, Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, jr., of Chevy Chase, who had been picked by many to win the title. Mrs. Meckley was up at that time and won, 2 and 1.

In meeting Mrs. Charles Egenroad of Washington Golf and Country Club today, Mrs. Meckley was without her favorite club, a 9 iron, but she hoped to find a substitute. Mrs. Meckley's club was placed in the wrong bag the other day and her companion of that day has left town on a 2-week vacation.

Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, seeking her second straight title, knocked 10 strokes off her qualifying score with an 80 and a 4 and 3 triumph over Mrs. Ora Emge. She met Mrs. Rex Howard, a former Kenwood clubmate, today.

Garber-Streit Match Slated.

Another quarterfinal match found Betty Garber, Argyle's club champion and recent Middle Atlantic finalist, against Mrs. P. H. Streit of Army Navy.

The golf committee at Prince Georges is taking an interest in the tournament and is requesting all contestants to turn in their cards as an aid in revising women's par.

First round results:

Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, Columbia, defeated Mrs. Ora Emge, Prince Georges, 4 and 3; Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud, Kenwood, 2 and 1; Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, defeated Mrs. Arthur Sims, Woodmont, one-up in 20 holes; Mrs. T. V. Wilder, Manor, defeated Mrs. Henry Lebovitz, Woodmont, 3 and 1; Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, jr., Chevy Chase, 2 and 1; Mrs. Charles Egenroad, Washington, defeated Mrs. J. A. Sherrier, Bethesda, 2 and 1; Betty Garber, Argyle, defeated Mrs. J. A. Swink, Belle Haven, 5 and 3; Mrs. P. H. Streit, Army Navy, defeated Mrs. J. J. Corson, Washington, 5 and 4.

Quarter-final Pairings:
Mrs. Kreuzburg vs. Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Smith vs. Mrs. Wilder, Mrs. Meckley vs. Mrs. Egenroad; Miss Garber vs. Mrs. Streit.

Co-Medalist

Mrs. Meckley Wins, 2 and 1,
Over Mrs. Ferriday in WDGA

Mrs. Betty Meckley of Kenwood putted with precision yesterday to whip co-medalist Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, jr., of Chevy Chase, 2 and 1, in the opening round of match play for the Women's District Golf Association championship at Prince Georges.

Mrs. Meckley yesterday showed a return to the putting form which won the U. S. Senior Women's championship for her in 1950. She qualified Monday with a 91. Against Mrs. Ferriday, Betty had five one-putt greens and finished the round with a 79, four strokes over women's par on the 6071-yard course.

Mrs. Ferriday tied for the qualifying medal with an 84, sharing the prize with Prince Georges' Mrs. Jack Smith. Mrs. Ferriday's medal score against Mrs. Meckley was an 86.

Mrs. Smith also ran into trouble yesterday. However, she beat Mrs. Arthur Sims of Woodmont one-up on the 20th hole. Mrs. Smith, an attractive, silver-haired grandmother of three, was scrambling throughout the match. She won the second extra hole with a bogey five.

Defending champion Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg of Columbia was back on her game yesterday after qualifying with a 90. But she one-putted the fourth, fifth and seventh holes and chipped into the cup on four yesterday. Mrs. Kreuzburg eliminated Mrs. Ora Emge of Prince Georges, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Meckley won this tournament in 1930, 1931 and in 1936.

First round summary:
Championship Flight:
Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, Columbia, defeated Mrs. Ora Emge, Prince Georges, 4 and 3; Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud, Kenwood, 2 and 1; Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, defeated Mrs. Arthur Sims, Woodmont, one-up in 20 holes; Mrs. T. V. 'Newcomers' Clashing In Smith-Garber Final For Women's Golf Title

Mrs. Jack Smith, who has proven that women can take up golf at 40 and make a success of the game, and Betty Garber, a shy, reserved summer camp instructor, met for the District women's golf title at Prince Georges today in the first final in years between newcomers to the title round.

For both, however, their appearance in the final comes as no surprise to their club members, the followers of Mrs. Smith from Prince Georges and the rooters for Miss Garber from Argyle.

This is only the second District championship for Mrs. Smith, who has three grandchildren. Last year she played for the first time and lost to Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, the eventual winner, in the first round. Yesterday she avenged that defeat with a 1-up triumph over Mrs. Kreuzburg in the semifinal.

Beat Mary Ann Downey.

Miss Garber has played in the District several times but never has reached the title round. Her best tournament performance was in the Middle Atlantic championship a few weeks ago when she defeated nationally-ranked Mary Ann Downey in the semifinals before losing to Mrs. Maurice Glick.

In defeating Mrs. Betty Meckley by a 3-and-1 margin yesterday, Miss Garber appeared to be bothered by the heat more than any other player in the tournament, but she stuck it out, although Mrs. Meckley several times generously offered to postpone the match. Just when Miss Garber appeared to be on the verge of collapse, she would rally with one of her best shots.

Misses Part of Vacation.

Mrs. Kreuzburg today had the consolation of joining her family at Ocean City, N. J., after missing most of the first week of their vacation because she was talked into making a title defense. The Columbia player was 1 up at the end of nine against Mrs. Smith, but lost the 10th, 12th and 15th before winning a hole on the back nine.

One of the outstanding performances in the higher flights yesterday was by Mrs. Paul Eaton of the host club, a 13-handicap player, who barely missed making the championship flight. Mrs. Eaton was 4 up after 11 holes on Mrs. John Mancos of Belle Haven in the first flight, but lost to her heavily favored opponent, 1 up.

Mrs. Smith, Miss Garber in WDGA Finals

Defending champion Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg of Columbia was upset, 1 up, by host club champion Mrs. Jack Smith in the semifinals of the Women's District Golf Association tournament at Prince Georges Country Club yesterday.

Mrs. Smith will play Miss Betty Garber of Argyle for the title at 10 a. m. today. Miss Garber gained the finals by defeating Mrs. Betty Meckley of Kenwood, 3 and 1, yesterday.

Mrs. Kreuzberg had an excellent chance to halve her match on the eighteenth hole. One down on the eighteenth, she saw Mrs. Smith hole out in 5. Mrs. Kreuzberg was on the edge of the green in 2, but she chipped short and two-putted to halve the hole and lose the match.

Mrs. Meckley was 5 down at the turn. Partly because her own game perked up and partly because Miss Garber appeared to be suffering a bit more from the intense heat, Mrs. Meckley whittled down her deficit. However, Miss Garber made her advantage stand up.

Yesterday's semifinals results and today's final pairings:
Championship Flight: Mrs. Jack Smith (Prince Georges) defeated Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg (Columbia), 1 up; Miss Betty Garber (Argyle) defeated Mrs. Betty Meckley (Kenwood), 3 and 1. Mrs. Smith vs. Miss Garber for title, 10 a. m.
Consolation Flight: Mrs. T. J. Trouchaud (Kenwood) defeated Mrs. Arthur Sims (Woodmont), 5 and 4; Mrs. E. C. Ferriday (Chevy Chase) defeated Mrs. J. A. Swink (Belle Haven), 2 and 1. Mrs. Trouchaud vs. Mrs. Ferriday for title, 9:45 a. m.
First Flight: Mrs. John Mancos (Belle Haven) defeated Mrs. Paul Eaton (Prince Georges), 1 up; Mrs. Samuel Brown (Woodmont) defeated Mrs. R. Steinbach (Army Navy), default; Mrs. Mancos vs. Mrs. Brown for title, 9:20 a. m.

Mrs. Smith Loses

Betty Garber Wins WDGA On 18th Hole

By Larry Laurent
Post Reporter

Miss Betty Garber of Argyle won the 17th and 18th holes yesterday to whip Mrs. Jack Smith of Prince Georges, 1 up, in the finals of the Women's District Golf Association's championship.

It was Miss Garber's first title in competition other than her own club championship. The willowy onetime District physical education teacher won the championship when Mrs. Smith misplayed a trap shot at the 18th hole.

Miss Garber accepted congratulations and told everyone within range, "I can go back to teaching school now. I want to win something, just anything." She was recently a finalist in the Mid-Atlantic championship, but was beaten.

Mrs. Smith, who'll be 40 years old in September and has a 21-year-old son with Marines in Korea, apparently had the championship after the 17th hole.

However, Mrs. Smith misjudged a short putt on the 17th and Miss Garber squared the match.

At the final hole, Mrs. Smith put her approach into a sand trap to the right of the green. Miss Garber's approach was to the green, in good position for a par four.

Mrs. Smith, plainly showing the effects of the 98-degree heat, tried to get out of the trap with a sand wedge. She misplayed the shot, hitting behind the ball and not getting out of the trap. It took four strokes for Mrs. Smith to get on the green and she conceded the match.

Miss Garber's medal score was 81. Mrs. Smith, with a medal score of 83, had an 83. Women's par is 38-37-75.

Results:
Championship flight—Miss Betty Garber, Argyle, defeated Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, 1 up. Consolation flight—Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase, defeated Mrs. J. Peter Trouchaud, Kenwood, 3 and 2. First flight—Mrs. John Mancos, Belle Haven, defeated Mrs. Samuel Brown, Woodmont, 5 and 4. Consolation—Mrs. Frank M. Trouchaud, Washington Golf and Country Club, defeated Mrs. Milton Harris, Woodmont, 4 and 3. Second flight—Mrs. Evelyn Maxsim defeated Mrs. Don Roney, 5 and 4. Consolation—Mrs. Maurice S. Shahan, Prince Georges, defeated Mrs. J. G. Schmitzer, 3 and 2. Third flight—Mrs. B. M. Rank, Prince Georges, defeated Mrs. Charles Fall, Prince Georges, 1 up.

New Title in Sight for Mrs. Glick, Leader in Payne Cup Tourney

Mrs. Maurice Glick, who has won a number of her State and district golf titles in Washington in her rapid rise as this section's top woman golfer, appeared headed for another as the Payne Cup entered the second round today at Congressional.

Mrs. Glick, with a 79, had only a one-stroke lead over a fellow Baltimorean, Jeanette Myers, and two strokes over Betty Garber and Mrs. Betty Meckley, the District's best, but the field hardly can afford to spot Mrs. Glick any strokes.

The top medal play tournament of the season ends tomorrow with a third 18-hole round at Congressional. The event has been played only eight times and Mrs. Glick has won it three times and District golfers the other five.

Miss Myers missed a great opportunity to lead the first day's field. After an outgoing 42 the Suburban Club player was one under men's par for eight holes on the back nine, only to take an eight on the 18th after wasting three shots in a trap beside the green.

Miss Garber and Mrs. Meckley both played consistent golf, and the latter's fine round after her winning 83 in the President's Plate at Washington Golf and Country Club last week stamps her as a serious threat.

Mrs. James Swink of Belle Haven had the best back nine of the day, a 37, for an 82 and was second in the low net scoring with 82-6-76. Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle is the low net leader with 85-10-75. The Payne Cup goes for low gross.

Mrs. Meckley was low by six strokes in the strong Kenwood delegation. Mrs. Rex Howard and Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud slipped to 91s and the comparative newcomers, Mrs. George Noble and Mrs. Hartwell MacCartney, were back with 94 and 91, respectively.

Mrs. Noble's round included an 11 on the 11th hole, which hardly could be called a lucky number.

Six Capital Women Bid For Runnerup Honors In Payne Cup Golf

The Payne Cup virtually has been conceded to Baltimore's Mrs. Maurice Glick, going into the final round today at Congressional Country Club, but there still is interest among a half-dozen District golfers as to what will pace the Washington entries and finish third, or possibly second.

The major medal play tournament for the Maryland and District area players was close for half the 54-hole distance between Mrs. Glick and a fellow Baltimorean, Jeanette Myers. But Mrs. Glick played Congressional's back nine in 35—even men's par—yesterday for a 75 and 36—hole total of 154.

Miss Myers played the back nine in 41 for an 81, and is seven strokes back going into the final 18. For 27 holes, Mrs. Glick was 70-40 and Miss Myers 80-40.

Mrs. Swink Is D. C. Leader.

The surprise leader of the District area players is Belle Haven's Mrs. James A. Swink, who all season has been threatening the top-flight players. Mrs. Swink added an 84 yesterday to a previous 82 for a 166 total, five strokes back of Miss Myers and three ahead of the next best score.

Still in the running for third gross and top local player is Mrs. George Noble of Kenwood, the former Texan, who showed yesterday her first day's 94, including an 11 on the 11th hole, was a horrible mistake. Mrs. Noble came back with an excellent 76, an 18-stroke improvement.

Betty Garber and Mrs. Betty Meckley, the present and former District champion, dropped 15 strokes back of Mrs. Glick yesterday with 88s, Mrs. Meckley coming to grief with a 7 on the par-3 ninth hole. They had 81s the first round.

Others With 169.

Others with 169 totals in addition to Miss Garber and Mrs. Meckley are Mrs. D. H. Henderson, 1951 club champion at the host club, and Helen Ruff of Rolling Road. Mrs. Charles Egenroad is at 170 with Mrs. Noble.

Baltimore also has the leader in the secondary low net division in Mrs. Len Engle of Suburban with 84 and 88 minus 20 handicap strokes for a net 152. Mrs. Swink, 166-12-154, and Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle, 174-20-154, are next.

Mrs. Glick needs only an 80 today to break what is believed to be a tournament record set by Mrs. A. B. Bower at Congressional in 1950. Mrs. Bower's three-round total was 235.

The leaders:

Mrs. M. Glick, Woodholme	79-75-154
Jeanette Myers, Suburban	80-81-161
Mrs. J. A. Swink, Belle Haven	82-84-166
Betty Garber, Argyle	81-88-169
Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood	81-88-169

Net 81 by Mrs. Meckley Wins President's Plate Golf Play

Mrs. Betty Meckley, who no longer takes golf as seriously as when she was winning all the major women's titles in this section, showed the committee chairman and Executive Committee members of the Women's District Golf Association that she still has her touch by winning the annual President's Plate competition yesterday at Washington Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Meckley, eligible by being Class A chairman of the Rules Committee, posted an 83 and deducted three handicap strokes for a net 81. The Kenwood player won the new President's Plate, the old one having been retired by Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, the present president, after three straight victories. Mrs. Dinneen finished one stroke out of the prize list yesterday with 91-6-85.

Betty Garber, club chairman and club champion at Argyle, won low gross was an 86 as Mrs. Meckley was eligible for only one prize.

Other net winners were Mrs. John Mancos of Belle Haven, 88-6-82; Mrs. Matthew Shrenk of Prince Georges, 95-13-82; Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional, 90-7-83; Mrs. Ralph Goldsmith of Woodmont, 87-4-83; Mrs. Frank Mirth of Washington, a past president, 91-7-84; Mrs. Mila Harris of Woodmont, 95-10-85, and Mrs. M. J. Forlinski of Washington, a past president, 95-10-85.

PAYNE CUP WON BY MRS. GLICK

Ties Congressional Club Women's Mark

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore established three tournament records and tied a course mark yesterday in winning the 54-hole Payne cup tournament for the fourth time.

Mrs. Glick added a 74 yesterday, tying the women's course record at Congressional Country club, for a three-day total of 228. Her previous rounds were 79 and 75.

Mrs. Glick, who became the first four-time winner, set a record by seven strokes for the winning score, and another by her 13-stroke margin of victory.

Jeanette Myers, of Baltimore, finished second with an 80 yesterday for a 241 total. Betty Garber, the District women's champion, added an 81 for a 250 total which was good for third place, 22 strokes behind the winner.

Mrs. Glick also posted the low net score with her 228 from scratch but was not eligible for two prizes. Low net went to Mrs. William Bibby of Cumberland, Md., with a 256 total minus 24 handicap for a net 232. Helen Ruff of Baltimore was next with 254 minus 21 for a 233 net.

BY MAURY FITZGERALD

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore's Woodholme Country club fired a five-over women's par 79 yesterday at Congressional Country club to take the first round lead in the 54-hole medal play Payne Trophy tournament.

The seven-time Maryland state and present Middle Atlantic champion, was out in 40 and back in 39 to finish a stroke ahead of Jeanette Myers, a fellowtownsman from Suburban Country club. Miss Myers appeared to have the lead clinched until the pitfalls of the easy appearing 18th hole caught up with what could have been one of the finest scores ever produced by a feminine player on the back nine of that course.

The tall Baltimorean was out in 40 and had used up only 30 strokes standing on the 18th tee. Miss Myers hit a fine drive but put her second into a yawning trap just in front of the green, and it took the Suburban star three more shots before she could get out of the sand. She finished the hole with a disastrous eight and the nine with 38 for an 80.

Last Holes Fatal

The defending champion, too, could have had a lower round but for the 17th and 18th holes. Mrs. Glick needed par in on those two holes for a 77 but bogeyed both of them.

District champion Betty Garber and Mrs. Betty P. Meckley, the former U. S. Seniors champion, finished in a tie for third with 81's. Miss Garber, who represents Argyle Country club, was out in 42 and back in 39, while the Kenwood star was 41 on the front and back in 40.

Helen Ruff of Rolling Road club, Cantonsville, Md., and Mrs. James Swink of Belle Haven, were next in line with 82's. Miss Ruff was 41 for both sides of the tough River road course, while Mrs. Swink, who was second net in that division of the tournament with a 76, was out in 45 and back in 37, the lowest nine of the day for that side of the course.

Home Clubbers Hit 83

Two host club players—Mrs. David Henderson and Mrs. Carl Matthews—were bracketed next at 83. Mrs. Henderson was 42-41, while Mrs. Matthews was out in 44 and back in 39.

Mrs. Charles Egenroad of Washington posted the only 84 of the day, a round consisting of an out nine of 40 and a 44 for the incoming journal. Mrs. Frank Cush or Argyle, who had a net of 75 to be low in the handicap division, Mrs. J. P. Moore, Chevy Chase, and Mrs. William Bibby, Cumberland, Md., had 85's.

Bracketed alone at 86 was Mrs. C. F. Lynch, a host club star. And at 87 came Mrs. C. E. Richards, Country club of Maryland; Mrs. J. W. Godfrey, Congressional; Mrs. Lucille Busch, Argyle; Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood; Mrs. George Fitten, Congressional; Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, and Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud of Kenwood.

New Officers

Mrs. Dinneen's Re-election As Golf Leader Expected

Mrs. G. W. Calvert of Washington Golf and Country Club has been named temporary chairman of the Nominating Committee of the Women's District Golf Association. The committee will meet October 15 to name the 1953 slate, which probably will again be headed by Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, current president.

Mrs. L. N. Hill of Kenwood was named to the unexpired term of first vice president, which was vacated by Mrs. W. W. Kinsinger.

Mrs. L. N. Hill Named First 'Veep' of WDGA

Mrs. L. N. Hill, of Kenwood Country club, was elected first vice president of the Women's District Golf association yesterday at a special meeting at the Columbia Country club to fill the position of Mrs. W. W. Kinsinger, who resigned. Also discussed at the W.D.G.A. meeting was the golf handicap for women. It was decided that the handicap will now be based on the 10 lowest scores instead of the previous basing on the five lowest scores.

MRS. DINNEEN IS NOMINATED

W.D.G.A. Officers' Slate Awaits Approval

Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, current president of the Women's District Golf association, again was selected for the post in 1953 by a W. D. G. A. nominating committee meeting yesterday at the Washington Golf and Country club.

A member of the Washington club, Mrs. Dinneen's nomination is expected to be confirmed at a formal election luncheon, Friday, Dec. 5, at the president's home club.

Also listed for office in 1953 are Mrs. Ralph Goldsmith of Woodmont, first vice president; Mrs. R. L. Hill of Kenwood, second vice president; Mrs. R. S. Goodridge of Bethesda, secretary, and Mrs. Vern Wilson of Columbia, treasurer.

Officers Nominated By Women Golfers

Mrs. R. N. Hill of Kenwood won the nomination for second vice president of the Women's District Golf Association over Mrs. James A. Swink of Belle Haven in the only close voting by the Nominating Committee yesterday.

The other selections of the Nominating Committee, all incumbents, were named virtually without opposition. They were Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen of Washington, president; Mrs. Ralph L. Goldsmith of Woodmont, first vice president; Mrs. Richard S. Goodridge of Bethesda, secretary, and Mrs. Vern H. Wilson of Columbia, treasurer.

Mrs. Hill was appointed late in the season to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. W. W. Kinsinger of Indian Spring, who resigned.

The 1953 officers will be installed at the annual meeting Friday, December 5, at Washington Golf and Country Club, barring extremely unlikely nominations from the floor. Yesterday's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Calvert of Washington, Nominating Committee chairman.

The District Golf Association has an invitation tournament request only from Washington Golf and Country Club. Belle Haven has applied for dates for its annual four-ball invitation, while Columbia, Congressional and Burning Tree have asked for member-guest dates and Chevy Chase is expected to follow. Manor Club, which renewed its invitation last year, plans to hold it every two years.

Merrell Whittlesey.

All dates will be announced at the District Golf Association's meeting February 8 at Indian Spring. The list appears top-heavy with member-guest events.

Belle Haven will be host to the Virginia six-man team championship for the first time the first week end in September and the Virginia State women's championship may be moved to the same dates at Washington Golf and Country Club, which it is believed would encourage more Virginians to enter both events. . . . The Middle Atlantic Golf Association will hold its annual meeting February 2 at Congressional Country Club, Dr. R. A. Keilty announces. Plans for the golden anniversary championships will be the top business. . . . Kenwood had a turnout of 175 players last Sunday, which should be about tops for mid-January.

In answer to several queries as to Lew Worsham's participation in the winter tour, he is playing and shot 82-77 in the Los Angeles Open, which did not qualify him for the final rounds. However, Lew seldom plays well in the California events on the tour. It takes him about three events to get started. . . . The Masters tournament already has sent out notices to get hotel reservations early for the event, April 3-6. There is a new H-bomb plant at Ellenton, S. C., just 20 miles from Augusta, which isn't going to help the room situation any, although the Augusta National Golf Club writes that there should be as many rooms as before and the rates will be the same.

George Diffenbaugh was telling a story the other day about going to court in Rockville concerning a robbery in his shop. The fellow who was accused of breaking into Diffenbaugh's shop at Kenwood was wearing two of Diffenbaugh's windbreakers, a pair of shoes and slacks from the Kenwood shop, all having been identified. "How do you plead?" the fellow was asked. He replied, "Not guilty!"

The Federal Golf Association's Agency Commissioners will meet February 12 at the D. C. Recreation offices on Sixteenth street to make final plans for what should be one of the biggest FGA seasons on record. . . . The Executive Committee of the Women's District Golf Association meets next Tuesday and may have its schedule ready by that time. . . . All the area golf groups appear to be concentrating on planning their 1952 schedules far in advance of the season, which should make for fewer conflicts as there will be time to work them out.

Visiting Golf Stars Approved For Mid-Atlantic Championship

By Merrell Whittlesey

Martin F. McCarthy, elected the 50th president of the Middle Atlantic Golf Association last night at Congressional Country Club, obtained approval to promote the most lavish men's amateur championship in the history of the Nation's third oldest golf group.

The tournament at Columbia Country Club, host club of the president, June 5-8, will be opened to prominent amateur golfers outside the District, Maryland and Virginia and it is hoped to attract several members of the Walker Cup team.

McCarthy has persuaded Columbia Club members to provide lodging for the week for star amateurs of the East and South who will provide competition for the top amateurs of this section for the Golden Anniversary event.

Women's Event Planned.

The women's championship will run concurrently at Congressional Country Club. For the first time in the history of the association women were invited to the meeting and the two who attended, Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen and Mrs. William F. Patterson, will have charge of the women's event. Mrs. Dinneen is president of the Women's District Gold Association and Mrs. Patterson is past president and former Maryland State chairman.

All qualifiers for both the men's and the women's championships will receive medals denoting the 50th anniversary of the association. A program of social events will mark the tournament week.

McCarthy, a prominent contender for the Mid-Atlantic title several seasons ago, succeeds John D. Hospelhorn as the Country Club of Maryland as president. Other officers elected were: First vice president, William C. Battle of Farmington, son of the Governor of Virginia; second vice president, Kelly Reed of the Berry Hills Club in Charleston, W. Va., a new member; third vice president, A. Herman Stump of Green Spring Valley; executive secretary-treasurer, Dr. Robert A. Keilty of Congressional and assistant, William Briggs of Kenwood.

Dr. Keilty and Briggs were re-elected. Next year marks Dr. Keilty's 54th in golf.

Senior Tourney May 22.

The Middle Atlantic senior tournament goes to Burning Tree May 22, the junior to the Richmond area August 19, the mixed Scotch foursome to Belle Haven July 11 and the pro-amateur to Washington Golf and Country Club July 31. The last two events are additions to the schedule for the 50th anniversary year.

Eddie Johnston of the C. C. of Maryland in Baltimore proposed the association further its name by planning an all-star amateur team match with Philadelphia area players. This was approved and will be worked out.

McCarthy proposed to the Mid-Atlantic, as he did to the Maryland State meeting several years ago, that the associations in this section combine to sponsor a dinner of champions in the fall of 1952.

The record gathering at Congressional included Walter R. Tuckerman of Burning Tree, Mid-Atlantic champion in 1907 and president of the association in 1916.

Frank McArdle and his committee have announced their recommendations on the course ratings of the clubs holding membership in the District Golf Association, and this group sincerely hopes the ratings will be used not only in tournament play this season, but in friendly matches as well.

Merrell Whittlesey.

The courses have been rated in the past but absolutely no use has been made of this work. There's an important purpose in rating courses. If a golfer whose home course is fairly easy plays a friendly match against a golfer whose home layout is difficult, there should be an adjustment in their handicaps. It's a simple procedure, but few follow it.

McArdle, past president of the Maryland and District Golf Associations, was named chairman of the committee to rate the courses.

His committee was composed of Pros George Diffenbaugh of Kenwood; Al Houghton of Prince Georges and Al Jamison of Quantico, plus Bobby Brownell, Ralph Bogart, George Thornton, John Feeney, Don Dudley, Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen, and Mrs. W. W. Kinsinger. Don Devau, first vice president of the Maryland State GA, assisted. After several meetings and many hours of work, completed Friday night, here are their ratings:

Club	Par	Rating
Argyle	72	70
Army Navy	72	71
Belle Haven	70	69
Bethesda	70	70
Burning Tree	72	72
Chevy Chase	69	71
Columbia	70	71
Congressional	71	71
Indian Spring	69	68
Kenwood	70	70
Manor	70	70
Prince Georges	72	72
Washington	70	70
Woodmont	73	73
Quantico	72	72

McArdle, who in his years on committees at his home Congressional Club and in the sectional associations has made a thorough study of handicapping, points out the courses are rated from the center of the middle tees, or those in play under every-day conditions.

The back, or tournament tees, were not used because they are seldom used in handicap play.

The most extreme ratings are Woodmont, 73, and Indian Spring, 68. So if an Indian Spring golfer with a five handicap played a round at Woodmont, his handicap automatically would be 10, because Woodmont is rated five strokes tougher. If a Woodmont golfer played at Indian Spring, he would take five strokes off his handicap for that round.

Length, the size and condition of the greens, contour of the ground and hazards are taken into consideration in rating a course. A mythical figure who can hit a drive about 240 yards, a second shot the maximum distance and who would two-putt each green is the guide.

The committee voted the first hole at Army-Navy as the easiest in the District, with the first at Prince Georges next. Army-Navy's par five first was rated at 4.2, which means the good golfer would score eight birdies there every ten times he played it. The first at Prince Georges, a par four, was rated 3.4, or six birdies every ten tries.

Toughest Hole in Area.

The toughest hole in the area in the committee's opinion is the third at Washington Golf and Country Club, rated 4.6. This dog-leg par four would stump the almost-perfect golfer with more bogeys than pars. Others rated almost as difficult are the par four 16th at Burning Tree, 4.5; par three ninth at Belle Haven (3.5) and the long par four sixth at Manor (4.5).

McArdle, incidentally, hopes all area clubs will start playing summer roles April and continue them through November 1. Remember the USGA says that's the way the game should be played.

Al Houghton, president of the Middle Atlantic PGA, is a trifle peeved over remarks made here two weeks ago over the ineptness of the Public Relations Department of the National PGA.

Houghton's point is that criticism of the PGA points a finger at each of its 2,500 members, a great majority of them hard-working home pros. The club pros are the backbone of the organization, he contends, and should not be blamed for the shortcomings of the tournament circuit.

With professional golf getting a black eye at almost every stop on the winter tour, Houghton thinks it is time for further study on a separate setup for the tournament players. "We still want them in the PGA," Al said, "but let them go for themselves for a while."

Field Day News

Mrs. Kreuzberg Best At Golf Field Day

Kenwood Country Club, first team champion of the Women's District Golf Association, added another twig of laurel in the same brand of competition when Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg shot a 79 for low gross in the club's field day yesterday. Members of first teams in the WDGA were guests. Mrs. Richard Johnson of Chevy Chase was gross runnerup with 80.

Low net prize went to Mrs. Lester Barnicle of Congressional with 81-8-73; second, Mrs. Paul Streit, Army Navy, 84-9-75; third, Mrs. Ora Emge, Prince Georges, 84-8-76; fourth, Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, 81-4-77, and fifth, Mrs. Henry Lebovitz, Woodmont, 86-9-77.

Members of WDGA second teams competed in a field day at Argyle, with Betty Garber of the host club shooting a 78 for top honors, trailed by Mrs. John Mancos of Belle Haven and Mrs. Richard Foley of Argyle, each with 85.

Another Argyle player, Mrs. Frank Cush, won low gross prize in the third teams' field day at Chevy Chase with a 91. Mrs. Charles Hawley, jr., won low net with 96-16-80. Mrs. H. Rod of Indian Spring was second with 101-20-81.

Kenwood Women Get Scare Before Winning Third Golf Team Title

For the third straight year Kenwood holds the Women's District Golf Association team championship, but it received a scare yesterday before keeping the title.

Kenwood was held to a surprising 4½-4½ tie by Washington Golf and Country Club, and for awhile it appeared it might not even get the tie. Helping keep Kenwood in first place was the upset of second-place Chevy Chase by Army Navy, 5½-3½.

These results left Kenwood in front with 46 points, followed by Chevy Chase with 39.

Congressional held onto third place with a 7½-1½ rout over Woodmont, and it needed that one-sided score to keep from being overhauled by Army Navy. In the other matches yesterday Prince Georges won over Manor, 6-3, and Bethesda beat Columbia, also 6-3.

These results left the clubs lined up in this order behind Kenwood and Chevy Chase: Congressional, Army Navy, Washington, Prince Georges, Woodmont and Manor.

Giving Kenwood a scare at the start of yesterday's final match was the 2-1 victory by Mrs. Charles Egenroad and Mrs. George Bailey of Washington over Kenwood's top pair, Mrs. Betty P. Meckley and Mrs. J. P. Trenchard. Kenwood took all 3 points in the second foursome, however, and Washington made the deadlock with a 2½-½ win in the final foursome.

Argyle won the second team championship by beating Prince Georges, 7½-1½, in a playoff match.

In third-team play, Chevy Chase leads with 50 points to Washington's 45, with one more match to play. Yesterday's scores were: Chevy Chase over Argyle, 7-2; Washington over Indian Spring, 6½-2½; Bethesda over Columbia, 6-3; Manor over Belle Haven, 5-4, and Army Navy over Kenwood, 5-4.

Kenwood Seen Headed For Team Title Again In Women's Golf

The Women's District Golf Association's first team match schedule hasn't even reached the halfway mark, but there's not much doubt that Kenwood's heavily-favored defending champions are on top to stay.

Woodmont's two-week spree in first place was rudely ended by Army Navy yesterday at Washington Golf and Country Club as the service club team won, 5½-3½. Kenwood won, 8½ to ½, over Manor Club, which couldn't even field a full team, while Chevy Chase defeated Congressional, 7-2, and Prince Georges won over Washington, 5½-3½.

Chevy Chase was considered Kenwood's toughest opposition before the season started, but Kenwood played Chevy Chase in the first match over the Chevy Chase course and won, 6-3, to end that theory. Then Woodmont surprised by totaling 14 points in its first two matches to loom as the dark-horse team.

Kenwood Has Good Lead. Kenwood meets Woodmont Tuesday at Congressional and if Woodmont had won yesterday it might have made a race of it by even holding Kenwood close in their head-to-head match. But Woodmont's defeat at the hands of Army and Navy made Kenwood's task easier.

Kenwood has a 3½-point lead over Woodmont and 5 over Chevy Chase, with Army Navy a point back of the Chevy Chase team.

At the end of three weeks of play, the tandem with the most point won without a forfeit is the No. 1 duo of the Prince Georges team, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Gil Levy. They have won 8 of 9 possible points, but have received little support from the second and third brackets, which accounts for the team's sixth-place standing.

Kenwood's third bracket of Mrs. S. B. Crocker and Mrs. Ed Widmayer, conceded to be the strongest third bracket in the series, has scored 8½ of a possible 9 points, but they won 3 by forfeit yesterday.

Another Unbeaten Pair.

The only other unbeaten combination of two players who have been partners in all three matches is Army and Navy's third bracket of Mrs. Paul Streit and Mrs. H. O. Compton. They have 7½ of a possible 9 points.

In the first division of the second team matches at Army Navy, where the hosts drew a bye, Argyle defeated Woodmont, 8-1; Belle Haven won over Manor, 5½-3½, and Chevy Chase defeated Bethesda, 7-2. This appears to be a two-team race with Argyle 2½ points ahead of Chevy Chase.

Second division of the second team matches will be played May 20 and the third teams today.

W.D.G.A. LEAD TO ARMY NAVY; WOODMONT 2D

BY MAURY FITZGERALD

Woodmont Country club's two week reign as leader in the Women's District Golf association team championship came to an end yesterday at Washington Golf and Country club where Army Navy dethroned the "Cinderella" team, 5½ to 3½.

While Woodmont was being pushed back into second place by the third-place service club aggregation, Kenwood, the defending champion, was moving to the front, defeating last place Manor, 8½ to 0½.

Woodmont, whose second and third teams lost in close matches on the very last green in the 18-hole matches, now has a total of 17½ points. Kenwood's lopsided romp over Manor, which defaulted three points in the third match, gave the titlists a total of 21 points.

Woodmont Starts Strong

Mrs. Ralph Goldsmith and Mrs. Arthur Sims gave Woodmont a great start by grabbing all three points in their match against Army Navy's Mrs. W. L. Parsons and Mrs. Richard Steinbach. But in the second match Mrs. I. W. Swanson and Mrs. W. J. Ely beat the Woodmont second team of Mrs. Herman Neugass and Mrs. Henry Goodman one-up on each side to square the matches, 3-all.

And then in the final foursome, Mrs. Paul Streit, who hadn't been much help to Mrs. H. L. Compton in the first 17 holes, knocked an approach shot to within inches of the cup on the home green to collect a 2½ to ½ point verdict over Mrs. Henry Lebovitz and Mrs. Milton Harris.

In the other first team matches, Chevy Chase climbed into third place by defeating Congressional, 7-2, and Prince Georges moved up into a fifth place tie with Congressional with 12½ point totals. Washington remains in seventh place with eight points and Manor trails at 6 points.

Argyle Holds Lead

In the first division of the second team championship played at Army Navy, Argyle retained its lead by swamping Woodmont, 8-1. Chevy Chase, the second-place team, defeated Bethesda, 7-2, and Belle Haven edged Manor, 5½ to 3½. The second division of the second team was postponed till May 20.

The third team division, rained out last Tuesday along with the first and second team divisions, will be played today at Argyle. Results of the first team matches are as follows:

ARMY NAVY 5½; WOODMONT 3½

Mrs. W. L. Parsons and Mrs. Richard Steinbach, Army Navy, scored 0 points to 3 for Mrs. Ralph Goldsmith and Mrs. Arthur Sims, Woodmont.

Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Gilbert Levy, Prince Georges, scored 3 points to 0 for Mrs. Charles Egenroad and Mrs. Robert Addie, Washington.

Mrs. Harold Lewis and Mrs. Ora Emge, Prince Georges, scored ½ a point to 2½ for Mrs. Lloyd Dennis and Mrs. William Walsh, Washington.

Mrs. Maurice Shahan and Mrs. Oliver Young, Prince Georges, scored 2 points to 1 for Mrs. Henry Riley and Mrs. G. W. Calvert, Washington.

Chevy Chase 3d Team Wins W.D.G.A. Crown

Defeating Bethesda, 7-2, yesterday at Bethesda club, Chevy Chase club won the W.D.G.A. 3d team championship with a season's total of 57 points. Washington scored a 6-3 victory over Belle Haven to clinch the runnerup spot with 51 points; Manor and Congressional halved at 4½; Argyle defeated Kenwood, 5½-3½, and Columbia defeated Indian Spring, 7½-1½.

Final team standings:

New rules to consider and think about.

By Merrell Whittlesey

Of the six changes in the revised code of golf rules slated to be adopted internationally by January 1, 1952, the increase in the penalty for an out-of-bounds shot to stroke and distance is causing far more comment than the abolishment of the stymie.

The big mystery about the stymie is, how did it stay so long? It was the most unpopular rule in golf, even though it only was used in major match play competition. There was about 90 per cent luck and 10 per cent skill in stymies.

But this added penalty for an out-of-bounds shot is serious business, and on tight golf courses there is bound to be a big difference in the scores. A player naturally is going to tighten a bit if going over a parallel fence means a two-stroke penalty instead of one.

The apparent reasoning behind the increase in the out-of-bounds penalty is that now it is less costly to knock a ball off a golf course than to get in trouble on the course.

Tourney Pros Asked for It.

A penalty for lost ball is stroke and distance. A penalty for an unplayable lie is stroke and distance. But at present the penalty for out-of-bounds is loss of distance only, or one stroke. For years the tournament pros have been asking how can a man be penalized two strokes for losing a ball on the course or having an unplayable lie, with the latter possible even in the fairway and be penalized only one shot for knocking a ball off the club property?

Burning Tree Pro Max Elbin brought up an interesting slant. Max said now the penalty for missing a ball, one stroke, is less than for hitting the ball, which will be two strokes for out-of-bounds.

The discussion came up at the Pro-Junior tournament at Manor Club the other day. Some of the pros were not in favor of the additional stroke for out-of-bounds. Some thought it was a good idea, and Harold Oatman, a golf radical, thought the penalty should be four strokes. "If a man can't keep the ball on the course, throw the book at him," was Oatman's comment.

Harsh on Indian Spring.

Bobby Bowers, assistant pro at Indian Spring, was saying that his members will be penalized more severely than any others in town. Every parallel fairway is out of bounds at Indian Spring, which means that on 15 of the 18 holes the golfers at the Four Corners club will have a mental hazard of a two-stroke addition to their score for not keeping the ball in the fairway or rough of the hole they are playing. In fact, the penalty will be so severe at Indian Spring that they may adopt a local rule of retaining the distance-only penalty.

Bowers added that the penalty there would hurt the average club member more than the top player. He said he didn't think he had been out of bounds this season and Pro Mel Shorey and Eddie Ault, Volney Burnett and others of the club's top amateurs seldom were out of bounds. But he could name several high 70 and middle 80 golfers who often stray into the paralleling fairway.

That Practice Putt Is OK.

It is interesting to note that the original proposal to prohibit the re-trying of putts was changed by mutual agreement of the England's Royal and Ancient and the United States Golf Association. There's just too much temptation to drop the ball for a practice putt after missing one to penalize the player.

Max Elbin missed an 18-foot putt on the 18th green of his home Burning Tree course yesterday—for a 29 on the back nine.

Max shot a 30, 6 under par, and as far as any one there could remember, it was the lowest nine-hole round ever played over the tree-lined fairways. Van Roby and Bill Eisenberger, sports announcers from Max's hometown of Cumberland, were his playing partners and watched the local boy make good.

Max dropped a 12-footer for a birdie on the par 5 10th; a five-footer for a deuce on the 11th and a two-footer for a birdie 3 on the 12th. He made a fine comeback putt to keep from three-putting the 13th, then missed a five-footer for a two on the 14th. He birdied 15 with a 15-footer and putted in the cup from off the green for an eagle 3 on 16. He played the tough 17th and 18th holes perfectly, but the birdie putts didn't drop.

His card:

The women golfers are all talking about—in a complimentary fashion too—Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional Country Club, who is said to be pounding a golf ball for distances unmatched by any linkswoman in town.

Mrs. Barnicle's game apparently is not a case of all power and no finesse, because in just two years her handicap has dipped from 36 to 12, and is still dropping. Her teammates say it can go several strokes lower, and will.

Mrs. Barnicle is not shy about her ability to hit for men's distances. She credits badminton for developing strong hands and wrists and giving her the power to out-hit her companions. She played tournament badminton in the Boston area for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnicle moved here from Newton, Mass., seven years ago, but for the first five years played only an occasional round of golf. Two years ago they joined Congressional. Last year Mrs. Barnicle won the prize at her club for the greatest reduction in handicap.

Mrs. Barnicle moved up to the first team this year and was one of the reasons for Congressional's surprising climb from next to last to a challenging position to Kenwood until yesterday.

Her best round to date is an 86 at Congressional. She still misses a number of shots, but missing fewer and fewer each month. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Godfrey, her partners in a match Sunday at Congressional, claim they've never seen a woman golfer pound a ball in the manner Mrs. Barnicle did in the wind that day, and for years Mrs. Godfrey has been playing with the District's best.

Mrs. Barnicle intends to play in all available tournaments this year, and before the season is over hopes to make her long hitting pay off.

Mrs. Kreuzburg Wins First District Golf Title

By PAULINE BETZ

Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg of Kenwood annexed her first Women's District Golf championship yesterday at Woodmont Country club by scoring a brilliant 2 and 1 victory over three-time winner, Mrs. Walter Stokes of Manor.

It was the first time Mrs. Kreuzburg had ever been a finalist for the coveted title altho 14 years and three children ago the attractive Kenwood star, as Virginia Pope, was a promising young player who had defeated Helen Dettweiler for the District junior crown. Her most recent tournament win was in the Star cup event which she took at Congressional last summer by shooting a 76.

Front Nine Spotty

The front nine was rather spotty with Mrs. Kreuzburg one up at the turn despite a 7 on the first hole and 42 to Mrs. Stokes' 41 strokes. But the back nine found the eventual winner playing near perfect golf as she was even par thru the 17th, where she closed out the match with a par 3. Both contestants had par 4's on the 10th and 5's on the 11th but the 12th hole produced the day's finest shot when Mrs. Kreuzburg played a beautiful brassie 180 yards dead for the stick and then sunk a 15 foot putt for an eagle 3 and a two up advantage.

The 13th was halved with bogie fours and Mrs. Stokes was over the 14th green with her third shot and lost the hole with a 6 to be three down. The 15th was halved with par 4's, leaving the match dormie, three down and three to go.

Mrs. Kreuzburg apparently was the winner at the 16th with both on in three but her downhill putt rolled four feet past the cup and she missed coming back. On the final par three hole, Mrs. Stokes' tee shot found a yawning sand trap while Mrs. Kreuzburg was a few feet over the green. Mrs. Stokes blasted out beautifully within three feet of the pin and when Mrs. Kreuzburg's chip shot was six feet too strong it looked as if the match might go to the 18th.

Marvin Receives Congrats

But the young Kenwood matron stroked the ball firmly to the back of the cup as Marvin, her caddy, nodded approvingly. Marvin the Magnificent, who has never been known to err in selecting a club or in lining up a putt, received almost as many congratulatory handshakes as the new District champion. Par on the 18th would have given the winner a score of 80.

Sally Carroll's Debut Spices Competition For D. C. Golf Title

One of the most unpredictable District women's golf championships in recent years gets under way at Woodmont Country Club today with any of a half-dozen players capable of winning.

There is considerable interest in the debut of Sally Carroll, former finalist in the West Virginia women's championship. Last year's winner, Mrs. A. B. Bower, has moved to Richmond and will not defend her title. Two three-time champions are entered, Mrs. Walter Stokes and Mrs. Meckley.

A field of 101 played a qualifying round today while match play in the championship flight of 16, and other flights, was to start tomorrow.

Women Share Medalist Honors In District Golf

Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Chevy Chase and Betty Garber of Argyle posted rounds of 81 to tie for the medal in yesterday's qualifying round for the Women's District amateur golf championship at Woodmont Country club, topping the record field of 101.

Mrs. Ferriday carded 42 on the front nine and whittled three strokes off that figure on the back nine to post her 81. Miss Garber's card was a more consistent 41-40. They will play off for the medal at a later date.

Tied for third place, one stroke off the medal score, came Mrs. W. R. Stokes of Manor, 42-40—82; Mrs. Rex Howard of Kenwood, 40-42—82, and Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, also of Kenwood, 42-40—82. Mrs. Stokes is a former champion.

Five ties at 83 were posted for the final three places in the championship flight. These included Mrs. Lester Barnicle of Congressional; Mrs. Henry Goodman of Woodmont; Sally Carroll of Belle Haven; Mrs. John Mancos, Belle Haven, and Mrs. Owen Hines of Washington. Mrs. Mancos failed to appear for the playoffs in which Mrs. Barnicle and Miss Carroll won places on the first hole and Mrs. Goodman edged out Mrs. Hines on the second extra hole.

Today's championship flight pairings and starting times:

9:48 a.m.—Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase (81) vs. Mrs. J. P. Trenchard, Kenwood (86).

9:52 a.m.—Mrs. Betty P. Meckley, Kenwood (84) vs. Mrs. Lester Barnicle, Congressional (88).

9:56 a.m.—Mrs. W. R. Stokes, Manor (82) vs. Marie Walper, Prince Georges (87).

10:00 a.m.—Mrs. L. G. Pray, Columbia (84) vs. Sally Carroll, Belle Haven (83).

10:04 a.m.—Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood (82) vs. Mrs. I. W. Swanson, Columbia (87).

10:08 a.m.—Mrs. J. R. Kullman, Army Navy (85) vs. Mrs. Henry Goodman, Woodmont (88).

10:12 a.m.—Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, Kenwood (82) vs. Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges (87).

10:16 a.m.—Betty Garber, Argyle (81) vs. Mrs. Charles Egenroad, Washington (87).

CO-MEDALISTS—Betty Garber (left) finished her round well ahead of Mrs. E. C. Ferriday in the qualifying test for the Women's District golf championship yesterday at Woodmont, but when Mrs. Ferriday added her card the two had tied for medalist honors with 81s. Fight Starts to Break Monopoly On D. C. Women's Golf Crown

By Merrell Whittlesey

Since 1925 the District Women's golf championship has been somewhat of a monopoly. Only 10 different names have been engraved on the cup in 25 years, but this year the three ex-champions paired in match play rounds starting today at Woodmont face a stern challenge from the non-winners.

The former champions surviving, Mrs. Betty Meckley of Kenwood (1930-31-36), Mrs. Marie Walper of Prince Georges, (1939) and Mrs. Walter R. Stokes of Manor (1941-42-47) all are in the upper bracket, and only one can get past the semifinals. One was due for elimination today when Mrs. Stokes met Mrs. Walper.

There was an indication of a different champion as early as yesterday's qualifying rounds when the best score of the ex-champs was an 82 by Mrs. Stokes. There was a tie for the medal between Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Chevy Chase, a former junior champion of Philadelphia, and Betty Garber, the Argyle club titlist.

Last year's winner and a four-time champion, Mrs. A. B. Bower, now is a resident of Richmond and ineligible.

Woodmont's year-old golf course held up nicely, as a test of golf, as nobody broke 80 and three of the five players who scored 88 made the championship flight.

Two Tie For Medal.

Miss Garber, whose competitive golfing career here has been marked by an undeserving series of unfortunate incidents, was low with 81 until the last twosome on the course with a chance to make the title flight reported. That twosome included Mrs. Ferriday, making her debut in the District championship, with an 81. They will play off for the medal at a later date.

The championship 16 is a representative one, with a great majority of the players who figured to qualify safely in the match-play rounds. Mild surprises were the failure of Mrs. Ralph Goldsmith of the host club and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Star Cup champion from Chevy Chase, to qualify. Mrs. Goldsmith had 90 and Mrs. Johnson 89.

Belle Haven's Sally Carroll, a former West Virginia finalist, playing the course for the first time, had a brief scare when her 88 was on the borderline, but she qualified in a playoff along with Mrs. Henry Goodman of the host club and Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle of Congressional. Mrs. Barnicle and Miss Carroll won on the first extra hole and Mrs. Goodman on the third over Mrs. Owen Hines of Washington. Mrs. John Mancoos of Belle Haven also had 88, but chose to withdraw from the playoff.

Final Scheduled Friday.

Mrs. Stokes was at 82 in the qualifying round with Mrs. Rex Howard, last year's medalist and Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, who set a women's course record of 79 in women's team matches there earlier in the season. In addition to her three titles, Mrs. Stokes twice lost in the District final to Mrs. Bower.

One round a day is scheduled through the final Friday. The field is so closely matched in talent this year that virtually all of the matches could go either way today.

Two players who deserve particular credit for making the title fight were Mrs. Barnicle and the women's champion from Prince Georges, Mrs. Jack Smith. Both were playing to the maximum handicap of the WDGA less than three seasons ago, but both have improved with remarkable speed.

Championship flight pairings:

Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase (81), vs. Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud, Kenwood (86).
Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood (84), vs. Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle, Congressional (88).
Mrs. Walter R. Stokes, Manor (82), vs. Mrs. Marie Walper, Prince Georges (87).
Mrs. L. G. Pray, Columbia (84), vs. Sally Carroll, Belle Haven (88).
Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood (82), vs. Mrs. I. W. Swanson, Columbia (87).
Mrs. J. R. Kullman, Army Navy (85), vs. Mrs. Henry Goodman, Woodmont (88).
Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, Kenwood (87), vs. Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges (87).
Betty Garber, Argyle (81), vs. Mrs. Charles Egenroad, Washington (77).

Mrs. Kreuzburg, Mrs. Stokes In District Finals

Three-time champion Mrs. Walter R. Stokes of Manor Country club will face Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg of Kenwood in the finals of the Women's District Golf association championship today at Woodmont at 10:15 a.m.

Mrs. Stokes, who also was twice runnerup in the championships, advanced to the finals with a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Rex Howard of Kenwood yesterday while Mrs. Kreuzburg was eliminating Sally Carroll of Belle Haven, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Howard, who set a course record Wednesday with a 76, was on even terms with Mrs. Stokes until the eleventh hole leading thru the first three with a two-up advantage. But Mrs. Stokes took charge by winning Nos. 11 and 12, halving 13, then taking 14 and 15 to close out the match with even par golf on the back nine.

Mrs. Kreuzburg never trailed in her match with Miss Carroll, holding a 3-up lead after the first nine which she shot in 41 to her opponent's 44.

The Belle Haven shotmaker cut the deficit to a single hole by taking the tenth and eleventh with fours, but they halved 12 and 13 and Mrs. Kreuzburg won No. 14. Miss Carroll took No. 15 but dropped the hole and match on No. 16 as they halved No. 17 with par three for the 2 and 1 final count.

Mrs. Ferriday Eliminated In WDGA

By Larry Laurent
Post Reporter

Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud of Kenwood, defeated medalist Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase, in the opening round of the Women's District Golf Association championship tournament yesterday at Woodmont.

Mrs. Trouchaud scored a 1-up victory.

She held a 5-up margin at the end of nine holes, before Mrs. Ferriday, former Philadelphia junior champion, caught fire on the back nine. After halving the tenth and eleventh holes, Mrs. Ferriday won on the twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth to tie the match. Her rally stopped on the final hole where Mrs. Trouchaud sank a 15-foot putt for a par four to win the match. Mrs. Ferriday took a bogey after her third stroke—a chip shot—went over the green.

Mrs. Trouchaud was one of four Kenwood players who scored victories yesterday. Other members of the WDGA Team One Kenwood champions who scored victories were Mesdames Rex Howard, Betty Meckley and Richard Kreuzburg.

Mrs. Meckley, 1950 United States Senior Women's champion and four-time winner of the District title, turned back Congressional's Mrs. Lester Barnicle, 2 and 1. Mrs. Howard defeated Mrs. Irving Swanson, Columbia, 5 and 3; and Mrs. Kreuzburg won, 4 and 3, over Prince Georges Club champion, Mrs. Jack Smith.

Betty Garber, Argyle, who tied Mrs. Ferriday for qualifying honors with an 81 Monday, went to today's quarter-final round with a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. Charles Egenroad, Washington.

Match Play Today at Woodmont

Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase, and Betty Garber, Argyle, shot 81s yesterday to tie for medal honors in qualifying for the Women's District Golf Association Championship yesterday. The medal scores were six strokes over Woodmont's women's par of 75.

Mrs. Ferriday and Miss Garber will play 18-holes next week with the winner taking the medalist trophy.

Stokes Ousts Meckley in WDGA Play

By Larry Laurent
Post Reporter

Mrs. Rex Howard of Kenwood, fired a 1-over-par 76 to set a women's course record at new Woodmont yesterday in the quarterfinal round of the Women's District Golf Association tournament.

With her 76 Mrs. Howard triumphed, 6 and 5, over her club-mate, Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud.

Mrs. Howard, a native of Cape-town, South Africa, equalled par in her outgoing round with a 37. She had a birdie 3 on the fifth hole after taking a bogey 5 on the third. Mrs. Howard was 4 up at the turn.

Mrs. Howard ended the match on the thirteenth hole with a par 3. She continued to play for a medal score and was 1 under par before taking a double bogey on the par 3 seventeenth hole. She finished the eighteenth with a par 4 for a back nine score of 39.

The previous low shot from the women's tees at Woodmont was a 79 by Mrs. Richard Kreuzberg, also of Kenwood, earlier this spring.

This marked the first time in seven attempts that Mrs. Howard has gotten past the first round of the WDGA championship flight. She dubbed herself the "consolation queen" after six straight consolation flight championships. For seven years in succession she qualified for the championship flight.

Mrs. Howard's record-shattering score overshadowed the loss of Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood, to Mrs. Walter Stokes, Manor. Mrs. Stokes, a two-time WDGA champion, beat Mrs. Meckley, United States senior women's champion, 4 and 3.

Sally Carroll, Belle Haven, continued her surprising play yesterday, scoring a 6 and 4 victory over comedalist Betty Garber, Argyle, 6 and 4. Miss Carroll's medal score was 78.

The fourth to reach today's semifinal round was Mrs. Kreuzburg. She defeated Army Navy's Mrs. J. R. Kullman, 2 and 1.

Pro's Daughter, 12, Shoots 89 on His Course, Costing Him a Golf Bag, but He Doesn't Mind

By Merrell Whittlesey

More good things have happened to Mary Ann Musser in the last week than ever before in her lifetime—12 years and seven months.

Last Friday the daughter of Johnny Musser, All View Club golf pro, earned a brand new golf bag for a rather unusual achievement for a 12-year-old. She broke 90 at her daddy's club, one of the toughest courses in this section. Mary Ann had 89.

On Monday she missed qualifying for the title flight of the Maryland State women's championship at Indian Spring by a single stroke. She had 91 and 90s played off. Yesterday she won a second flight match over Mrs. D. E. Leahy of Manor, 2 and 1.

Today the black-haired youngster from Ellicott City met Mrs. Arthur Sims of Woodmont in a second-flight quarterfinal match.

Mary Ann has been playing golf since she was 8. During the school year she plays in the late afternoons. During the summer she plays almost all day. Can you imagine a 12-year-old youngster practicing golf shots? Well, her mother and father can't imagine her not practicing. They have to threaten to hide her golf clubs—not her dolls—to get her off the golf course.

The only drawback to Mary Ann's game is that she has so much to live up to. Most everybody who has seen her play thinks she's going to be great. She's a big youngster, wears a 8½ shoe and has hands almost as big as her father's. He is the new Middle Atlantic champion, as of Monday.

But already the Musser household is torn with dissension. The golf professional in the household told his little daughter that her stance was too open. Mary Ann wouldn't listen, and so instead of a spanking, Johnny took his youngster to see Ralph Beach, the Suburban Club pro and his good friend who almost beat him out of the sectional PGA title.

Ralph took Mary Ann in hand, closed her stance slightly and although she has developed a slight hook with her more closed stance, she is hitting the ball better. And incidentally, Beach at the same time told her father that he, too, was hitting the ball with too much of an open stance. Johnny altered his swing and won his first title.

Mary Ann starts in Ellicott City High School in the fall and her 13th birthday follows in December.

But for the remainder of the summer she will play in all available women's golf competition in her section, including the pro-junior championship, where her partner will be her father.

In the two days in the State championship at Indian Spring, Mary Ann has played with considerable poise. She naturally is a curiosity, but shows little sign of nervousness. In her second-flight match with Mrs. Leahy, she chatted all the way around.

Despite her tender years, she already has acquired a tournament golfer's temperament. She detests hitting a poor shot, losing is irksome.

The next three or four years are crucial to Mary Ann's golf career. If she keeps her interest through high school, she might be another Marlene Bauer. Pop Musser has the first big trophy on the mantle, but it shouldn't be the last.

Dates Announced For 2 Women's Golf Tournaments

Woodmont Country club's great new course will be the scene of next year's Women's District Golf association championship. This was announced yesterday by W.D.G.A. president, Mrs. M. J. Torlinski, at the annual luncheon-meeting of the organization at Army Navy Country club.

Two Dates Disclosed

Mrs. Torlinski, who officially took office along with other members of the slate selected several weeks ago by the nominating committee, also announced that the Maryland State Golf association's women's championship would be played at Chevy Chase club.

The city championship will be played June 18 through 22. The Old Line event will be played July 9 through the 13th.

Mrs. Meckley Presents Trophy

Taking office along with the re-elected service club member were Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen of Washington Golf and Country club, first vice president; Mrs. W. W. Kinsinger of Indian Spring, second vice president; Mrs. Marie Spates, Prince Georges, secretary; and Mrs. Vern Wilson, Columbia, treasurer. Mrs. Dinneen, as first vice president, will have charge of the tournaments for 1951, while Mrs. Kinsinger's office places her in charge of the teams.

Mrs. Betty P. Meckley, Kenwood Golf and Country club's U. S. Senior's champion, presented a trophy for a new class C tournament.

The presentation by the former District champion to the W.D.G.A. brings the total of class C trophies to five. There are also five cups awarded annually in class B and six in class A.—FITZGERALD.

Mrs. Glick Sees Sixth Golf Title As Inspiration to 'Older Girls'

By Merrell Whittlesey

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore let it be known after winning her sixth Maryland State women's golf championship yesterday that she hoped this would be an inspiration to the "older girls," as she put it.

Mrs. Glick stopped teaching school in 1936 and started to play golf in 1937. The Glicks joined the Woodholme Club in Baltimore in 1937 and Mrs. Glick had a 24 handicap. She didn't enter the State championship until 1942 and was runnerup that year to Mrs. Walter Stokes.

The tournament was not played in 1943, but she won in 1944. It was a medal play event in 1945, which Mrs. A. B. Bower won, with Mrs. Glick third. Then Mrs. Glick won in 1946-47-48, was runnerup to Mary Ann Downey in 1949 and won again last year and yesterday. That's six firsts, a second and a third in eight years.

In addition, she has won the Middle Atlantic, the Baltimore city title several times, and Payne Cup, and is well known in the national tournaments for several outstanding achievements.

Wins Praise From Pro.

Indian Spring Pro Mel Shorey refereed the match yesterday and was saying later that Mrs. Glick is a finished performer. Shorey liked the way she used her head, and the way she came out of trouble the few times she strayed from the fairway.

Although the field in the State this year was not up to the caliber of previous years, Mrs. Glick had to go 17 or 18 holes in all her matches until she defeated Mrs. J. P. Troughaud of Kenwood, 4 and 3, yesterday. After winning a medal by four strokes with a 74, she had to go 18 holes in the first round to defeat Mrs. Frank Mirth, who was playing in her first championship flight.

The champion had to come from behind to beat Mrs. Rex Howard, 2 and 1, and then was forced to shoot a 71 Thursday to beat Miss Downey, the Trans-Miss titlist, 1 up. Mrs. Glick seemed to bring out her best golf when she needed it. Against Mrs. Troughaud, she needed par for 3 74, her opponent par for a 79 when the match ended on the 15th.

Will Be Back Again.

The final-round appearance should be good for Mrs. Troughaud's confidence. The Kenwood player practices and plays considerable golf, and has been making more of a tournament mark each year.

Mrs. Glick plans another District appearance in September for the Middle Atlantic championship at Kenwood. Mrs. Betty Meckley and the other Kenwood girls hope to make that one of the finest women's tournaments in years.

Other results yesterday:

Championship consolation—Mrs. M. G. Geiger, Baltimore C. C., defeated Mrs. Marty Gordon, Indian Spring, 5 and 4. First flight—Mrs. Paul Costello, Indian Spring, defeated Mrs. Richard Mothershead, Arzyle, 2 and 1. Consolation—Mrs. M. S. Shahan, Indian Spring, defeated Mrs. D. E. Leahy, Manor, 4 and 2. Second flight—Mrs. George Jani, Congressional, defeated Mrs. Mildred Jorg, Indian Spring, 3 up. Consolation—Mrs. Henry Leboyitz, Woodmont, defeated Mrs. Al Swaine, Indian Spring, 6 and 5. Third flight—Mrs. Irving Rosen, Indian Spring, defeated Mrs. R. D. King, Fort Meade, 3 and 1.

Lions Get Banonis

DETROIT, July 14 (AP).—The Detroit Lions have traded Jack Simmons to the Chicago Cardinals for Vince Banonis, veteran star. Both formerly played center for the University of Detroit.

Mrs. Pollard, Virginia Champ, Out to Add Mid-Atlantic Today

Mrs. W. D. (Anne) Pollard, a pretty little blond from Charlottesville who has struggled through three consecutive days of give-and-take golf matches, has an opportunity to score her first "double" today in the finals of the Middle Atlantic women's golf championship at Kenwood Country Club.

Mrs. Pollard, who attended George Washington University, is the Virginia State champion and would like to add the Mid-Atlantic title.

Of course, her opponent, Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, has an opportunity for a "double," too, as Mrs. Glick is the Maryland State titlist. But Mrs. Glick has won many honors, including six State titles, the Mid-Atlantic in 1947 and several Baltimore crowns.

Mrs. Pollard has won three matches by a total of 3 up. In the first round against Sally Carroll, the Farmington Club player won on the 19th hole when Sally three-putted. Mrs. Pollard won the second-round match, 1 up, over Mrs. E. C. Ferriday. Yesterday she defeated Sydney Elliott, a clubmate and the defending champion, 1 up in 19 holes, when Miss Elliott three-putted the 19th. Each scored 75 for the round.

Mrs. Glick defeated Mrs. David Henderson, Congressional Club

champion, 1 up, after taking the lead for the first time on the 16th hole. Mrs. Henderson one-putted five of the first six holes and until the 16th was either even with Mrs. Glick or 1 up.

Mrs. Pollard played golf at the Purcellville Club for a number of years and has been playing at Farmington for about two years. She participated in the District women's championship at Columbia three years ago as an unattached player and lost in the second round to Mrs. J. P. Troughaud of Kenwood.

The Class B players of the Women's District Golf Association open their cup tournament season tomorrow with 71 listed to compete in the annual Times-Herald Cup at Congressional Country Club.

Jackie Bullock of Kenwood, the defending champion, is included in the pairings released by Mrs. Gilbert R. Levy, the Class B Tournament chairman.

20-Plus Golfers Out In Women's Revision Of Handicap Classes

After spending several seasons encouraging the high handicap golfers to compete in its tournaments, the Women's District Golf Association reluctantly cut the 20-plus handicappers out of all but one event in a revision of the handicap classes yesterday.

Effective with the 1952 season, Class A will be scratch through 10, Class B will be 11 through 15, and Class C will be 16 through 20. Last year the class limits were scratch through 14 for A, 15 through 20 for B and 21 through 26 for C.

However, the tournament fields became so large under the 1951 limits that it became increasingly difficult for the tournament chairman to obtain courses for the 18 regularly-scheduled competitive events of the Association. The women golfers have been asked to keep their tournament fields under 100.

One Tourney For 20-Plus.

Now players with handicaps over 20 will have only one tournament sponsored by the Association, and in it will play for a trophy donated by Mrs. Owen Hines of Washington Golf and Country Club. It will be known as the Duffers tournament. The original Duffers will become the Elizabeth Harris Cup.

Mrs. M. J. Torlinski, outgoing president of the WDGA, said there was no alternative other than to reduce the limits for the handicap classes. Now the higher handicapped players will have to work harder to get within the C class maximum.

Under the 1952 setup, there will be 95 players eligible for class A tournaments, 128 for B and 132 for C, with about 40 registered players over the class C limit. The usual figure is 65 per cent participation from class A players and about 50 per cent for the others.

Class A Became Unwieldy.

Class A became so unwieldy last year that 145 players turned out for the annual Corby Cup tournament at Columbia Country Club. At that time there were nearly 175 players in the scratch to 14 class, which is far too many.

Yesterday's meeting at Columbia Country Club was attended by all club chairmen and all members of the Executive Committee but one. It was the last business meeting for Mrs. Torlinski and her committees. The incoming president, Mrs. M. Hale Dinneen of Washington Golf and Country Club, was in accord with the revisions.

Mrs. Kreuzburg Golf Champion Who Doesn't Need to Practice

Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, a State event next month at Indian Spring.

round long-game player but with a weakness for sand trap shots, is a proud, popular and happy District Women's golf champion today after playing five tournament rounds of golf in which she found only one sand trap.

The former club champion at Indian Spring and Kenwood defeated Mrs. Walter R. Stokes of Manor, 2 and 1, at Woodmont Country Club yesterday in a mild upset. Mrs. Stokes now is batting 500 in six District women's finals, having won the title three times and been runnerup twice to Mrs. A. B. Bower and once to Mrs. Kreuzburg.

The attractive new champion, mother of three young children, obviously has little time for golf. Unlike most players who play considerable friendly golf but few tournaments, Mrs. Kreuzburg rarely has time for a friendly round, but plays in about half of the one-day cup events and an occasional tournament that lasts longer.

Winner of Several Tournaments.

She was a member of Kenwood's championship first team, has won The Star Cup twice, the Post Cup last year, several other 18-hole cup events and club championships. As Virginia Pope she was the District junior champion and for four straight years beat Helen Dettweiler, now one of the Nation's top pros, in that event. Her husband Dick, manager of Mrs. K.'s Toll House Tavern, is a former club champion at Kenwood.

Mrs. Kreuzburg is a carefree golfer. Yesterday morning her husband suggested she hit a few practice shots, but she arrived at Woodmont just in time to tee off. She never practices, and when she plays in tournaments, her first shot is her drive off the first tee.

The new champion played consistent golf all week. She was second low qualifier with an 82, had 82-83-81 in her first three matches and when the match ended on the 17th yesterday, where Mrs. Kreuzberg dropped a 4-footer for a par 3, she had par in for an 80.

Trails After First Hole.

Mrs. Stokes won the first hole of the final but lost the second and third and never did get even from that point. The three-time titlist was not as sharp with her short game as she had been in eliminating the only ex-champions and Mrs. Rex Howard on her way to the final.

Mrs. Kreuzberg apparently will be content with the District title as she said her family duties will keep her from the Maryland

Final round results:

Championship consolation—Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase, defeated Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, 4 and 3.
First flight—Mrs. Richard Johnson, Chevy Chase, defeated Mrs. John Mancos, Belle Haven, 1 up, 19 holes. Consolation—Elinor Finckel, Columbia, defeated Mrs. H. L. Lacey, Manor, 4 and 2.

Favorites Score In Initial Round Of W.D.G.A. Play

By MAURY FITZGERALD

Nearest thing to an upset in opening match play rounds of the Women's District Golf association championship at Woodmont Country club yesterday was Mrs. J. P. Trouchaud's close 1-up decision over Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, the tournament co-medalist.

The Kenwood Golf and Country club star fired a 38 on the front side of the tough Woodmont course despite a seven on the first hole to manufacture a big five-up lead on the Chevy Chase club player. But Mrs. Ferriday whittled away at Mrs. Trouchaud's lead until the match was even going into the last hole.

Won on Final Hole

Mrs. Trouchaud stemmed the tide of Mrs. Ferriday's belated rally at the home hole when she hit two great shots to the green and needed only to get down in two putts to triumph. The Kenwood representative, by virtue of her great performance, earned the right to play her clubmate, Mrs. Rex Howard, in today's second round.

Mrs. Howard advanced at the expense of Mrs. I. W. Swanson of Army Navy, 5 and 3. The Kenwood player won the very first hole and never once relinquished the advantage.

In the other top bracket match, Mrs. Betty P. Meckley of Kenwood plays Mrs. W. R. Stokes of Manor. Both are former holders of the title and a real battle is expected from the two top-flight stars.

The U. S. Senior's champion eliminated Mrs. Lester Barnical of Congressional Country club, 2 and 1, using a fine round of 82 to accomplish the feat. Mrs. Stokes disposed of Marie Walper of Prince Georges, 4 and 3.

Miss Garber Scores

Co-medalist Betty Garber ran into a tartar in Mrs. Charles Egenroad of Washington, winning on the 17th green, 2 and 1. The former high school physical instructor plays Sally Carroll, runner-up in last year's West Virginia State championship. Miss Carroll defeated Mrs. L. G. Pray of Columbia, 3 and 1.

The other bottom bracket match finds Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg of Kenwood playing Mrs. J. R. Kullman of Army Navy. Mrs. Kreuzburg, two-down through the eighth hole, rallied to defeat Mrs. Jack Smith of Prince Georges 1 up.

Mrs. Kullman, firing a fine round of 80, defeated Mrs. Henry Goodman of the host club, 5 and 4.

Borrowed Wedge Smooths Path In Mrs. Kreuzburg's Title Quest

By Merrell Whittlesey

A chance round of golf last Sunday afternoon has proved to be of considerable importance this week to Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, who finds herself in today's finals of the District women's golf championship for the first time.

The Kenwood Club player had an 18-hole date today at Woodmont with Mrs. Walter R. Stokes, who is making her sixth appearance in the final and bidding for her fourth title. Her first triumph was in 1941.

Mrs. Kreuzburg played nine holes on short notice at her home club last Sunday and in her haste to round up a set of clubs, took her husband's wedge. She played the nine in 36, thanks to some stroke-saving approaches.

Dick, a former Kenwood Club champion, allowed his wife to borrow his trusty wedge for the championship this week, and now it looks as though he'll never get it back.

Second Low Qualifier.

It's not that Mrs. Kreuzburg has been using it in sand traps—she hasn't been in a trap in four rounds—but she has been making some magnificent approaches with the club. It has been so good to her that she was second low qualifier, and now has won three straight matches without a hot putting streak.

Yesterday the Kenwood player defeated Sally Carroll of Belle Haven, 2 and 1, after leading from the second hole.

Mrs. Kreuzburg has been playing the same type golf, an 82 in the qualifying round, 82 in the first round, 83 in the second, and yesterday she needed par for an 81, but did not play the last hole.

Miss Carroll, a Capital Airlines ticket agent, came from 3 down to pull within a one-hole margin at the 11th, but Mrs. Kreuzburg forged ahead again. Sally's next tournament appearance will be in the West Virginia women's championship June 29 at White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Rex Howard of Kenwood, whose course record 76 was the sensation of the quarter-finals Wednesday, played Mrs. Stokes even for 10 holes yesterday, and then her wood shots suddenly let her down and she lost four of the next five holes.

Gets Six Straight Pars.

Mrs. Stokes defeated Mrs. Howard, 4 and 3, with a string of six straight women's pars on the back nine after a wobbly start going 44. With three holes to play, Mrs. Stokes had par in for an 80. It was the third straight day she ended her match on the 15th green by a 4 and 3 margin, having accomplished the same margin against ex-champions Mrs. Marie Walper and Mrs. Betty Meckley.

Mrs. Stokes, who like Mrs. Kreuzburg, qualified with the second low score of 82, has moved through the toughest bracket without really being extended. The 1941-42-47 champion has played much too steadily for her opponents.

If Mrs. Stokes wins today she will join Mrs. A. B. Bower, who did not defend her title, as a four-time champion. Mrs. Bower or Mrs. Stokes have monopolized the District women's title since 1940. The tournament was suspended during the war.

Mrs. Kreuzburg's victory yesterday won only a "Let's go to Glen Echo" from 9-year-old George Kreuzburg, who was promised an outing as a birthday present. The other children of the Kreuzburgs are Judy, 7½, and Bobby, 19 months.

Pairings in the other finals today:

Championship consolation: Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Prince Georges vs. Mrs. Jack Smith.

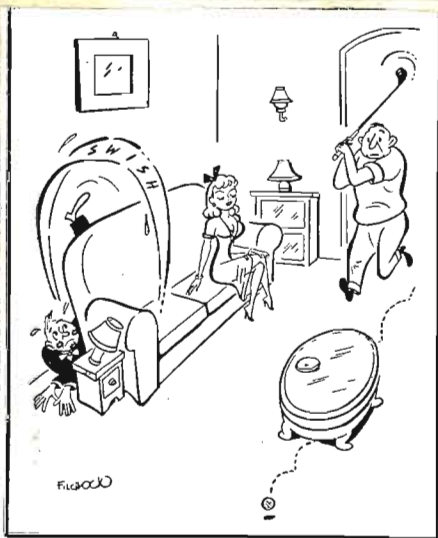

First flight: Mrs. John Mancos of Belle Haven vs. Mrs. Richard Johnson of Chevy Chase. Consolation—Mrs. H. L. Lacey of Manor vs. Elinor Finckel of Columbia.

Second flight: Mrs. J. W. Godfrey of Congressional vs. Mrs. Allan Sherier of Bethesda. Consolation—Mrs. Theodore Peyser of Woodmont vs. Mrs. J. A. Swink of Belle Haven.

Third flight: Mrs. E. I. Kaufman of Woodmont vs. Mrs. Henry Lebovitz of Woodmont. Consolation—Mrs. M. L. Ferguson of Belle Haven vs. Mrs. Ed Widmayer of Kenwood.

Fourth flight: Becky Feller of Bethesda vs. Mrs. J. W. Cave of Manor. Consolation—Mrs. M. M. Hay of Army Navy vs. Mrs. W. W. Teeter of Belle Haven.

Fifth flight: Mrs. J. S. Myers of Congressional vs. Mrs. F. E. Babcock of Chevy Chase.

Of 4 semifinalists Get First Title Shot In D. C. Women's Golf

Three of the four players in the semifinals of the District Women's golf championship today at Woodmont were new to the round of four, with only Mrs. Walter R. Stokes of Manor, a three-time former champion, previously having advanced that far. Mrs. Stokes, who rather quietly has beaten two former champions, while some of the other players have been getting more attention because of exciting golf, played Mrs. Rex Howard in one semifinal today.

Sally Carroll to Play.

The other semifinal today was between Sally Carroll, a pretty youngster who is playing in her District championship, and Richard Kreuzburg of Kenwood, mother of three children. Mrs. Stokes has been a semifinalist at least six times in the past, including this year, as was a runner-up to Mrs. Bower, last year's champion in addition to her three titles. The Manor Club played an approximate 80 yesterday, defeating Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood, 4 and 3. Mrs. Stokes was the runner-up last year and soon will defend her women's senior title.

Howard, who just missed a hole by a single stroke with a qualifying day, has been an excellent golfer all week. She set an unofficial course record yesterday with a 76 despite a five hole par-three 17th hole after match was over. Her score did not go into the records, however, as first of all it was posted after play, and secondly she needed two short putts.

My Garber Defeated.

Carroll didn't make any mistakes yesterday as she defeated Betty Garber of Argyle, the medalist, by a surprising 6-4 margin. Miss Carroll, who posted a shaky 88 in her qualifying round, had 83 in her first match and 78 in the second, a five-stroke reduction each day.

For the second straight day Mrs. Kreuzburg was in the closest match of the day. She was one down and four to play against Mrs. J. R. Kullman of Army Navy, but won the next three holes for a 2 and 1 triumph.

Mrs. Kreuzburg has been to the semifinals of other major sectional events, including the Maryland State Women's, but in her comparatively few appearances in the District is making her best showing this week.

All of the good golf yesterday was not in the first flight. Mrs. O. Compton of Army Navy played the first nine in 40 strokes, lowest nine of her career by several shots, in defeating Mrs. Hines of Washington in a one-flight match.

Luck—and Fine Play— Aid Kenwood Women In Golf Title Tourney

There are two quarter-finalists in the District women's golf championship at Woodmont today who are extremely thankful for being there and that's the type player you have to beware of in a match-play tournament, the ones who get an assist from Lady Luck or win when it appears they're going to lose.

Mrs. J. P. Troughaud and Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, Kenwood teammates, are in that category and now that they're past the first round they might have the incentive to go on winning.

Mrs. Troughaud didn't think much of her chances on the 18th tee yesterday. The Kenwood Club titlist had been 5 up and 7, to play against Co-Medalist Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Chevy Chase, when all of a sudden she started losing holes. Before she realized it, the 5 up lead was gone and she was all even.

Mrs. Troughaud Rallies.

When a player loses a big lead, he or she rarely is in the mood to come back. But Mrs. Troughaud played a delicate approach shot to the 18th 2 feet from the cup and won the hole with a fine par 4 and the match, 1 up, when Mrs. Ferriday took 5.

Mrs. Kreuzburg had her narrow escape off the golf course. Driving home from the qualifying round Monday, she was behind a big truck which signaled a left turn. When Mrs. Kreuzburg attempted to apply the brakes, nothing happened. There were none.

Fortunately, the truck made a quick turn or Mr. Kreuzburg would have plowed right into it as there was an oncoming car to the left and a ditch to the right.

She was so glad to be alive that golf was secondary yesterday, but she had an 83 and won the closest match of the day, 1 up, from Mrs. Jack Smith, the club champion at Prince Georges. Mrs. Smith was 2 up at one time.

Three-Time Champions Meet.

Today Mrs. Troughaud met Mrs. Rex Howard, a clubmate, and Mrs. Kreuzburg played Mrs. J. R. Kullman of Army Navy. The latter played the out nine in 39 yesterday and was 6 up on Mrs. Henry Goodman of the host club, finally winning, 5 and 4.

Three-time champions Mrs. Betty Meckley and Mrs. Walter R. Stokes met in today's feature after the former was extended to the 17th by the comparative newcomer to golf, Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle, and Mrs. Stokes eliminated the only other ex-champion competing Mrs. Marie Walper.

The other match today is between Betty Garber of Argyle, co-medalist with an 81, and Belle Haven's Sally Carroll, the West Virginian who won all the women's events around her home town of Wheeling, before moving here last year. Miss Carroll passed her first real test in District golf yesterday, winning over the experienced Mrs. L. G. Pray, Columbia Club champion, 3 and 1.

First round results in the championship flight:

Mrs. J. P. Troughaud, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. E. C. Ferriday, Chevy Chase, 1 up; Mrs. Rex Howard, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. I. W. Swanson, Columbia, 5 and 3; Mrs. Walter R. Stokes, Manor, defeated Mrs. Marie Walper, Prince Georges, 4 and 3; Mrs. Betty Meckley, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. J. Lester Barnicle, Congressional, 2 and 1.

Betty Garber, Argyle, defeated Mrs. Charles Eckenrode, Washington, 2 and 1; Sally Carroll, Belle Haven, defeated Mrs. L. G. Pray, Columbia, 3 and 1; Mrs. Richard Kreuzburg, Kenwood, defeated Mrs. Jack Smith, Prince Georges, 1 up; Mrs. Roger Kullman, Army Navy, defeated Mrs. Henry Goodman, Woodmont, 5 and 4.

Today's pairings: Mrs. Troughaud vs. Mrs. Howard; Mrs. Stokes vs. Mrs. Meckley; Miss Garber vs. Miss Carroll; Mrs. Kreuzburg vs. Mrs. Kullman.

Mrs. Howard, whose 76 on Wednesday set a course record for women at new Woodmont, was 2-up after six holes. But Mrs. Stokes evened the match at the turn. After halving the 10th hole, Mrs. Stokes ran up her winning margin by taking four of the next five holes in even par strokes.

Mrs. Kreuzburg shot a 41 on the outgoing nine and was 3-up going to the 10th. Miss Carroll rallied to win the 10th and 11th. They halved the next two holes, Mrs. Kreuzburg going 2-up again by winning the fourteenth. She ended the match with a par 3 on the seventeenth hole.

Mrs. Kreuzburg will be the third Kenwood opponent drawn by Mrs. Stokes in three days. Before beating Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Stokes turned back Mrs. Betty Meckley on Wednesday.
