County WDGA golf teams faring well

Although the season is yet young, competition is already sizzling in the Women's District of Columbia Golf Association. After two rounds of intense matches, Montgomery County WDGA teams are, for the most part, either leading or hotly challenging current leaders for the top slots in the six WDGA divisions.

In Division I, Montgomery Village, at 13, is just one-half point behind Hidden Creek. Division II is something of a horse-race: Prince George's and Virginia clubs are dominating, but not by that much; the next several weeks will tell. Indian Spring is No. 1 in Division III—at 59, a big five points over closest competitor Springfield.

In Division IV, powerhouse Avenel has racked up more points—68—than any other team in any other division, and Bethesda is in second place with 61. Montgomery County teams have snagged the first four slots in Division V, with Kenwood first at 59, Bretton Woods a very close second at 58½, Montgomery Village third at 52, and Bethesda fourth at 51½. But look out for Congressional, which in its only match to date has accumulated an impressive 34 points; this team will come on strong. Columbia leads Division VI with 61 points, followed by Lakewood, in second place with 53½.

Kinsella Wins Keefer Cup

Widicus Falls Into Tie for 2nd

By Ben Gieser
Special to The Washington Post

Sheila Kinsella of Arlington and Bretton Woods, playing in her first Keefer Cup since back surgery 12 years ago, shot a final-round 76 and finished with a 36-hole net total of 149 to win yesterday at Chevy Chase Club.

First-round leader and defending champion Peggy Widicus of Annandale and Army Navy three-putted five times on her last nine holes and tied Cami Berher of Montgomery Village at 150.

Berher shot 78-6-72 yesterday. Widicus, who had a two-shot lead after an opening round 71, shot 89-10-79 yesterday. Kinsella subtracted her 12 handicap from her score of 88.

Widicus, who has led the first round of this tournament three straight years, played with Kinsella and had her two-shot lead reduced when Kinsella completed the front nine in 42 to her 43.

Kinsella may have won the tournament on the next two holes. On the par-3 10th, she hit her tee shot into a deep bunker in front of the green, sand-blasted to eight feet beyond the hole and rammed in the putt for par.

Kinsella's approach shot on the par-5 11th hole left her on the green but about 70 feet from the flag stick. Kinsella stroked her first putt 10 feet short of the hole but then sank that putt and saved another par.

On the finishing holes, Kinsella, along with the rest of the field, had problems.

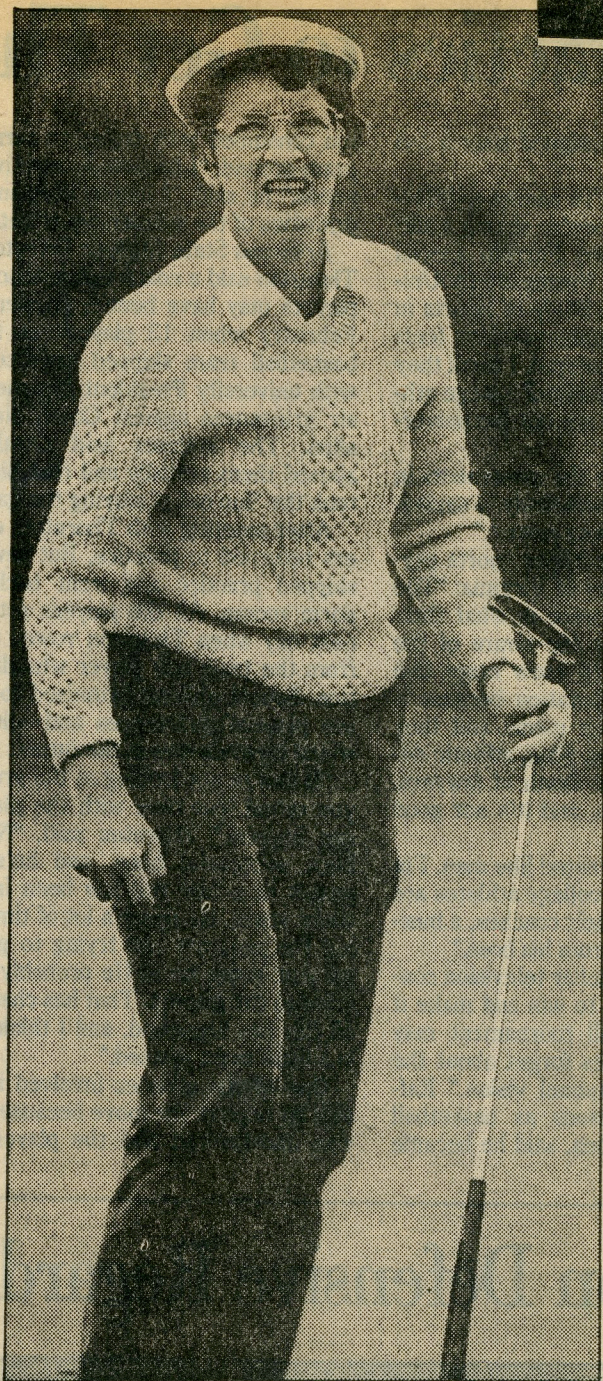

After driving poorly and taking double bogey on the 17th hole, Kinsella hit a good drive on the par-4 final hole, but hit a poor second shot from a muddy lie. She hit her third shot left of the green, chipped to five feet and missed the putt for another double bogey. But she survived with a narrow victory after Widicus three-putted.

"The back nine on this course is very tough," said Kinsella, a native of Dublin, Ireland, who quit golf after back surgery 12 years ago. To add to that, she hurt her neck in an auto accident five years ago, still feels pain and is just now getting her golf game in shape.

"I didn't panic," Kinsella said. "Those are brutal holes coming in. It's easy to make triple bogey or worse. It's a great test of golf and the course is in wonderful condition."

Widicus bemoaned her putting. "Those five three-putts on the back nine killed me," said Widicus. "It was just the putting. There was nothing wrong with the long game."

Sharon Briggs of Montgomery Village, who challenged for the lead after an opening-nine 38 yesterday, shot 81 and tied for low gross at 160 with Sheila Dagucon of Montgomery (79-81-160). Briggs and Dagucon also tied for fourth in net with 152. Shawn McCullough, WDGA champion from Woodlawn whose one handicap was best in the field, was third low gross with 81-162.

Widicus Up By Two in Keefer Cup

By Ben Gieser

Special to The Washington Post

Defending champion Peggy Widicus of Annandale and Army Navy Country Club overcame a shaky start and shot net 71 to take the first-round lead of the 36-hole Women's District Golf Association Keefer Cup yesterday at Chevy Chase Club.

Rita Chadwick of Lakewood (83-10-73), who was tied after the first round of this event four years ago, and Sheila Kinsella of Bretton Woods (85-12-73), playing her first Keefer in more than a decade, are tied for second.

Sharon Briggs of Montgomery Village (79-4-75), Sheila Dagucon of Montgomery (79-4-75) and Lori Wood-Griffin of Westwood (80-5-75) were next at net 75.

After driving on the par-4 opening hole, Widicus could not see the green for her second shot. She hit a 5-wood shot over the horizon and the ball ended up in greenside sand on the left, and she ended up sinking a 10-foot putt for double bogey six.

But Widicus, who has led the first round of this event for three consecutive years, then steadied. She parred nine of the next 11 holes and applied her 10 handicap to a score of 81.

"On the first hole, I thought I knew where I should be going," said Widicus of her "blind" approach shot over a hill. "I hit it very good, but it went into the left bunker, just off line."

"I'm very happy," said Widicus, a member of Army Navy which has several times won the WDGA team title. "There's pressure on the final day. You don't swing quite as loosely, but I got that first one last year."

Hilda Cain of Army Navy made a hole-in-one on No. 16, but golfers from Montgomery Village dominated the first round of match play in the Women's District Championships yesterday at Norbeck Country Club.

In a showdown between two Montgomery Village club members, Cami Berher beat Shirley Kushner, 1 up. Other Montgomery Village winners were Sharon Briggs, who edged Ellen McGowan (Springfield), 3 and 2, and Lynday Dindseil, who defeated Laura Miller (Bethesda), 3 and 1.

Rita Chadwick (Lakewood) broke Montgomery Village's domination by defeating Cindy Carlin, 2 up. Shawn McCullough (Woodlawn) beat Joanne Quinn (Montgomery), 6 and 4. Carol Mills (Army Navy) finished off the top flight by beating Corene Turner (Westwood), 5 and 4.

LOCAL GOLF

The second day of the Women's District Championships will be played at the Norbeck Country Club. Montgomery Village dominated the first day.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1990

WDGA Championship: Defending champion Shawn McCullough of Woodlawn won her second match by defeating Cindy Carlin of Montgomery Village, 5 and 4, in the championship flight of the women's meet at Norbeck Country Club in Rockville. She meets Carol Davies Lillie of Argyle in the semifinals today. Lillie beat Carol Mills of Army Navy, 3 and 2.

Monday's low scorers, Cami Berher of Montgomery Village and Sharon Briggs of Montgomery Village, will square off in the other semifinal. Berher defeated Sheila Dagucan of Montgomery CC, 3 and 2, and Briggs downed Lynda Bindseil of Montgomery Village, 5 and 3.

In the first flight, Diana Saine of Springfield, Joan Craver of Montgomery, Wendy Stewart of Belle Haven and Malsum Lee of Indian Spring advanced to the semifinals.

Rain Stops WDGA

Continuous rain soaked the Norbeck Country Club course yesterday, forcing postponement of the Women's District Golf Association Championship. Play will resume this morning at 10:15 if weather permits.

McCullough, Briggs Reach WDGA Final

From News Services and Staff Reports

Defending champion Shawn McCullough of Woodlawn beat Carol Davies Little of Argyle, 3 and 2, and will go for another Women's District Golf Association title at Norbeck Country Club, starting at 3 today.

Sharon Briggs (Montgomery Village) defeated fellow club member Cami Berher, 1-up, to advance to the championship flight final. The other four flight finals will start at 2.

In the first flight semifinals, Dina Saine (Springfield) beat Joan Craver (Montgomery), 4 and 3, and Wendy Stewart (Belle Haven) beat Malsun Lee (Indian Springs), 3 and 2.

In the second flight, Kim Overmiller (Norbeck) beat Su Kim (Bretton Woods), 2 and 1, setting up a title match against Nancy Graves (Army Navy), who edged Kay Gunson (Bretton Woods), 3 and 2.

Rose Marie Vargo (Norbeck), who had a third flight bye yesterday, will face Vida Olinick (Kenwood), a 4 and 2 victor over Libby Kinnard (Army Navy). Lori Ledbetter (Lakewood), who won on the 19th hole over Pat Eisen, will meet Marlene Frazier (Montgomery) for the fourth flight title. Frazier beat Annette Le-Seck-Sioe, 2 up.

McCullough wins second WDGA title

FROM STAFF, WIRE REPORTS

The Women's District Golf Association championship experienced its second straight year of severe interruptions by rain, but Shawn McCullough seems to thrive on the chaos.

The young computer programmer from Woodlawn Country Club won the two-day-delayed final yesterday at Norbeck CC, defeating Montgomery Village's Sharon Briggs 5 and 4 to complete her successful defense of the title.

McCullough won the eighth and ninth holes to go 3 up at the turn and was not threatened. She also won the 11th and 13th and halved the 14th, finishing about three over par figures.

McCullough Repeats As WDGA Champion

By Andre Williams
Special to The Washington Post

Shawn McCullough of Woodlawn continued her smooth strokes to defeat Sharon Briggs of Montgomery Village, 5 and 4, at Norbeck Country Club yesterday to retain her title in the championship flight of the Women's District Golf Association tournament.

After a week in which inclement weather postponed play twice, conditions finally were good.

"I felt pretty comfortable," said McCullough, who also won the Woodlawn Lady's Cup this year. "Being ahead helps to make you happy. I think that if I was behind I wouldn't have been as low-key."

McCullough entered the back nine 3-up. Briggs had opportunities, but after she bogeyed the 11th hole and McCullough curled in a short putt for par, Briggs seemed to unfold, trailing now by four strokes.

"I pressed a little harder than I should have and that throws you off," said Briggs. "My putting wasn't there all day. Shawn gave me a couple opportunities to jump back into it if I could have made some putts, and I didn't. She had her game all together and I was struggling with my game."

In the first flight finals, Wendy Stewart (Belle Haven) dispatched Diana Saine (Springfield), 6 and 4. Kim Overmiller (Norbeck) won in a sudden-death playoff over Nancy Graves (Army Navy) in the second flight and Vida Olinick (Kenwood) won, 1-up, over Marie Vargo (Norbeck) in the third flight.

Lori Ledbetter (Lakewood), who advanced to the fourth flight championship by winning on the 19th hole in the semifinals, edged Marlene Frazier (Montgomery), 5 and 4.

Montgomery County golfers didn't win every association tournament they competed in recently, but they certainly showed a strong presence in the various championship contests that took place in early August.

Shawn McCullough of Woodlawn successfully defended her Women's District of Columbia Golf Association (WDGA) Championship by defeating Sharon Briggs of Montgomery Village, 5-4, at the conclusion of week-long, rain-delayed play at Norbeck.

On her way to the final, former pro McCullough defeated JoAnn Quinn of Montgomery, 6-4; Cindy Carlin of Montgomery Village, 5-4; and Carol Davies-Lillie of Argyle, 3-2.

Briggs, for her part, defeated Ellen McGowan of Springfield, 5-3, and fellow Montgomery Villagers Linda Bindseil and medalist Cami Behrer, 5-3 and 1-up, respectively.

Briggs, an accomplished golfer who has a long string of impressive local victories under her belt, cited the strength of McCullough's total game and her own putting, which she said was off throughout the final match, as contributing to the Virginian's victory.

Flight honors went to Wendy Stewart of Belle Haven, who defeated Diana Saine of Springfield, 6-4 in the First Flight; Kim Overmiller of Norbeck, who defeated Nancy Graves of Army-Navy, 1-up on the 19th hole in the Second Flight; Vida Olinick of Kenwood, who defeated Rose Vargo of Norbeck, 1-up in the Third Flight; and Lori Ledbetter of Lakewood, who defeated Marlene Frazier of Montgomery, 5-4 in the Fourth Flight.

Rita Chadwick of Lakewood won the Championship Consolation 2-1 over Shirley Kushner of Montgomery Village. Marion Booth of Manor, playing for her 53rd year in WDGA competition, finished 1-up on the 19th hole to wrest the First Flight Consolation from Cheryl LaMotta of Argyle.

Other Consolation winners were Marti Rust of Westwood, Dar Carroll of Lakewood, and Joy Koerber of Norbeck.

Laura Miller of Bethesda won the Metta Streit Medal for senior low qualifier.

At the awards presentation, WDGA President Mary Lou Amatucci of Argyle expressed the District's gratitude to the Norbeck staff and membership who made the tournament possible despite two days of postponements due to the weather. Special thanks were extended to head pro Tom Reynolds, greens' superintendent Jim Christy, and men's golf chairman Tom (husband of consolation winner and Norbeck women's golf chairman Joy) Koerber.

reclaims team title

By ROBERT BELL

Journal staff writer

Led by the team of Mimi Hoffman and Nancy Duncan, Belle Haven Country Club won its second championship flight in three years at the Virginia State Ladies Team Matches yesterday, defeating Woodlawn, 5½-3½, at Belle Haven.

Hoffman and Duncan teamed to beat Woodlawn's Jessie Lahr and Linda Divall, 2½-1½.

Under the unique scoring system, each club fields three two-player teams. Scoring is determined by match play, and each group can earn a maximum of three points: one for the front nine, one for the back nine and one for the entire 18 holes.

Belle Haven was also led by the team of Ruth Ann Verrell and Natalie Cunningham, who beat Woodlawn's Sue Schilling and Barbara Garrett, 2-1. Woodlawn's Shawn McCullough and Debbie Simpson outscored Belle Haven's Melissa Trowbridge and Wendy Stewart, 2-1.

Belle Haven, which went into the tournament with the lowest aggregate handicap of the 20 competing teams, had the match firmly in hand when all three of its teams won the front nine. That gave Belle Haven a 3-0 lead, meaning only one Belle Haven team needed to win over the back nine to secure the championship.

Despite playing on its home course, Verrell said she and her teammates were a little nervous. "You get all the members following you and rooting so hard for you," she said. "You want to do especially well."

Belle Haven defeated Virginia Beach's Cavalier Country Club for the title in a sudden-death playoff in 1988. Last year, Cavalier redeemed itself by beating Belle Haven for the title.

Belle Haven and Woodlawn breezed into the final with easy semi-final wins Wednesday. Woodlawn blanked Portsmouth's Elizabeth Manor Country Club, 9-0, and Belle Haven beat Arlington's Army Navy Country Club, 8½-1½.

Belle Haven's title was one of five contested yesterday on the par-74 course. In an all-Northern Virginia fourth flight final, Country Club of Fairfax defeated Fairfax's International Town and Country Club, 7-2.

In other flight finals:

■ James River Country Club beat Country Club of Virginia, 6-3, to win the first flight.

■ Country Club of Williamsburg beat Westwood Country Club, 6½-2½, to claim the second flight.

■ Meadowbrook Country Club edged Willow Oaks Country Club, 5-4, to win the fourth flight.

Jane Fitzgerald of Kensington won five straight holes early, finished at 2 under par and defeated Shannon Hanley of Potomac, 4 and 2, to successfully defend her Maryland State Golf Association women's championship yesterday at Argyle Country Club.

Fitzgerald ended the match in grand style on the tough, dogleg par-4 16th hole, hitting a 175-yard 4-iron approach shot that almost went into the hole for an eagle. She tapped in the resulting one-foot putt for birdie and victory.

"I feel great. It's very satisfying," said Fitzgerald, 28, a merchandise buyer at the Chevy Chase Club pro shop. Her caddie and husband, Jim Fitzgerald, is head professional at the club. "My husband, my mom and dad and my daughter [2½-year-old Kelly], they all chipped in so I could practice."

Fitzgerald, who Thursday eagled the 15th hole in eliminating Karen Jones in the quarterfinals, got out of the blocks early against Hanley, the qualifying medalist who plays out of Congressional Country Club. Fitzgerald went birdie-par-par-birdie-par to win Holes 3 through 7 and take a 5-hole advantage.

Hanley, 22, captain of the James Madison University women's team, then sank a 30-foot putt for birdie at the ninth hole to pull to 4 down, moved within three holes by making par at the 11th hole and knocked in a 10-foot birdie putt at the par-5 12th to pull within 2 down.

Fitzgerald then hit a beautiful 3-iron tee shot to within eight feet of the hole at the par-3 13th and made par to regain a 3-up lead and closed out Hanley with her near eagle two holes later.

Hanley did not appear discouraged by the loss. "I missed a few putts on the front nine," she said. "Jane played extremely consistent. She's a great player."

"Shannon is a very impressive

SENIOR WOMEN SHINE IN CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY: Sidney Willson of Montgomery netted a four-under-par 88(18)70 on her home course and claimed the WDGA Women's Senior Championship for 1990.

This was the biggest win for Willson, 63, who has been playing golf on and off since she was eleven years old. She has been with the District for six years, and is the immediate past-president of Montgomery's Ladies Golf Committee. Earlier this season, she won the WDGA Class B Stohlman Cup.

"I was lucky," said Willson, who raises thoroughbred horses in Howard County. "I'm playing as well as I've ever played, and I'm having lots of fun with the competition in the WDGA."

Eve Dempsher of Lakewood, 96 (22) 74, won the second hole of a playoff against Esther Shimberg of Kenwood, 98 (24) 74, to be named the District's "Super Senior" (i.e., over 65) for this year.

Prizes also went to Mickey Kriner of Columbia, first gross with 88, and Laura Miller of Bethesda, second gross with 89.

Dee Smith of Manor provided unexpected excitement for the day by making a hole-in-one on number 14.

Earlier in the week, Joan Lins of Turf Valley was named the Maryland State Golf Association's 1990 Senior Women's Champion by shooting 80 at Suburban in Baltimore. Among the Montgomery County golfers who did well in the flights were Nancy Hunter of Montgomery, runner-up in gross for ages 55-59; Hermie Touse of Brooke Manor, second net for ages 55-59; and Betty Marshall of Montgomery and Esther Shimberg of Kenwood, first and second net, respectively, for ages 65-69.

It's that time of year again: Associations assemble 12 or 24 of the strongest players available, and the "Washington-side" meets their counterparts on the "Baltimore-side" to determine, in a serious but good-natured way, which city can claim local golfing supremacy.

This year, teams heavily populated with Montgomery County golfers scored resounding victories in two separate Baltimore-Washington golf matches, one sponsored by the Women's District of Columbia Golf Association (WMGA) and the other by the Maryland State Golf Association (MSGGA).

In the annual women's contest, the WDGA played host to the Baltimore area's Women's Golf Association (WGA), this time at Argyle, where our local players successfully defended their title by beating the WGA team, 11-7.

WDGA teams who won their matches included Carol Davies and Carol Mensel, both of Argyle (3-0 over Cheri Cooper of Hobbit's Glen and Joan Lins of Turf Valley); Carol Harris of Argyle/Kenwood and Carol Carrigan of Chevy Chase (2-1 over Cindy Peterka of Sparrow's Point and Terry Abrams of Chestnut Ridge); Linda Gugliemi of Congressional and Peggy Widicus of Army-Navy (3-0 over Midge Thursby of Woodholme and Sue Sherwood of Elkridge); Cami Behrer and Cindy Carlin, both of Montgomery Village (3-0 over Sally Casey of Greenspring and Jane Dubois of Maryland Golf).

Carlin chalked up the finest individual achievement of the day by making an eagle on the dog-leg par-5 sixth hole.

Team Captain Carmen Oelsner of Bretton Woods and Judy Nelson of Army-Navy (0-3 against Andrea Kraus of Woodholme and Linda Hickman of Chartwell) and Sheila Dagucon of Montgomery and Laura Miller of Bethesda (0-3 against Katie O'Neill and Stephanie Kell, both of the Country Club of Maryland) played valiantly, but lost to their tough Baltimore opponents.

At the luncheon that followed, Captain Oelsner eloquently thanked the Baltimore golfers "who braved the dangers of the Beltway to reach the battlefield where year after year teams confront one another with the well-chosen weapons of drivers, pitching wedges, and putters." She also thanked WDGA president Mary Lou Amatucci and Melly Tucker, both of Argyle, who helped coordinate the event.

WOMEN'S DISTRICT GOLF ASSOCIATION—In the WDGA Tournament of Champions at Springfield, Esther Shimberg of Kenwood shot 95-24-71. Leland Ingham of Columbia won gross, 72. Ann Cook of Bretton Woods was second net with 86-14-72, followed by Patty DeSimone of Montgomery, 97-23-74. Paula McMillan of Avenel was second low gross with 83.

Ask the Golfers

QUESTION: Who from a Montgomery County club or course other than your own would be the toughest amateur golfer to beat in match-play competition?

ANSWERS: From Frank Abbott of Lakewood, former Washington Metropolitan Amateur Champion: "Marty West of Columbia because of his outstanding record of accomplishment. No contemporary player has accomplished what Marty has accomplished in the last 15 years."

From Martin West III of Columbia, seven-time Maryland State Amateur Champion and current Vice-President of the Middle Atlantic Golf Association: "There are a number of players who are highly competitive, so to pick one is a very hard task. There are several at Congressional who are very tough. The one who has played the best in current years is Pat Tallent."

From Pat Tallent, current Club Champion at both Congressional and the TPC at Avenel and 1989 Medalist in the Maryland State Amateur: "Marty West is a tough competitor in match play and always has been. He's better than most people in Maryland, and he's the one guy in this area who has a national reputation."

From Jane Fitzgerald, current Maryland State Women's Amateur Champion: "I enter a match-play tournament with the philosophy that on any given day anyone has the potential to be your toughest competitor. It's hard to name a single person."

From Mary Lou Svec, Women's Golf Chairman at Columbia and and Past-President of the Montgomery-Prince George's Women's Golf Association: "Probably Melly Tucker of Argyle. I've seen her play at the Corby Cup at Columbia, and she's very consistent in the fairways and very tough around the greens."

From Sharon Briggs, current Club Champion at Montgomery Village: "Probably Sheila Dagucan of Montgomery Country Club or Karen Jones of Argyle."

"They're just fantastic players, whether it's stroke or match play."

From Karen Jones of Argyle, 1988 Women's District Golf Association Champion: "I would say Carole Harris, who plays out of Kenwood as well as Argyle. I would also say Sharon Briggs of Montgomery Village, and Tara Hipp, also of Montgomery Village. They've always been very strong competitors, good players."
