Local Ladies In Golf Tie

By Raymond Parr

Mrs. Morton Wasserkrug and Mrs. Allen Wurtzburger, teamed up for a 2-1 victory today to enable the Baltimore Women's Golf Association to rebound for a 2-2 tie in a match against Washington at Elkridge Club.

The host squad was behind, 2-7, when Mrs. Wasserkrug, of Woodholme, and Mrs. Wurtzburger, of Suburban, concluded play in the best ball Nassau competition against Mrs. Arnold Wilcox and Mrs. Lloyd Dennis. The former pair had lost the front nine, one up, but won three of the four holes from the thirteenth on to annex the back nine and match points.

A pair of 80 shooters, Mrs. Redmond Stewart, Jr., of Green Spring Valley (81) and Mrs. Alexander Gordon 2d, of Elkridge (80), scored the host's only shutout, downing Mrs. Gilbert Levy and Mrs. H. Neugass, 3-0. The local ladies had a 74, the day's lowest best ball.

W.G.A. Team Seeks 12th Win Over D.C.

By Raymond Parr

Women's Golf Association shot-makers will place an imposing record on the line against their Washington neighbors when they play host to a D.C. team in the opening joust of their annual home-and-home series tomorrow (10 o'clock) at Baltimore Country Club.

Since World War II, the Monumental City ladies have triumphed eleven times, while holding Washington to five victories. Moreover, the Capitol team has been on top only once in the last four years, did manage a tie in the spring encounter of 1953.

LINKSWOMEN TIE IN MATCH AT ELKRIDGE

Baltimore And Washington Teams Score Nine Points Apiece

By LOUIS M. HATTEK

Indicating they have tightened up their squad considerably since last year's trouncing here, Washington's women's golf team surprised 12 of Baltimore's leading linksladies yesterday by battling the local golfers to a 9-to-9 tie at Elkridge.

Actually, it was a strong rally by Mrs. Morton Wasserkrug and Mrs. Alan Wurtzburger, playing the No. 6 position for Baltimore, which earned two of three Nassau points and gained the deadlock.

Stage Late Rally

After losing the outgoing nine and one down after 12 holes, the Wasserkrug-Wurtzburger pair won three of the next four holes to take the second nine and the 18-hole match point, as well.

The tie will be resolved next September 2, when the teams collide in Washington.

Washington's No. 3 twosome of Betty Garber and Mrs. Charles Egenhead got the visitors off to a fast start by upsetting Mrs. Maurice Glick and Mrs. C. E. Richards, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2. Miss Garber matched Mrs. Glick's 78 medal, and the District pair teamed for a best-ball 79.

SHARON BRIGGS

Age: 53 Handicap: 5 Home club: Montgomery Village Business: Office manager Parsons Corp. (international engineering construction company) Best round: 67 at Hilton Head National Accomplishments: Seven club championships at Montgomery Village; 1994, '95 MSGA Two-Woman Team champion with Shelia Dagucon; runner-up 1994, '95 MSGA Women's Senior Championship; runner-up four times in the WDGA Championship; 1994 WDGA Carpenter-Williams Cup champion. On golf: "I've got 46 years of golf under my belt. I grew up playing in a golf family. Our summer vacation was golf. We always belonged to a nice country club wherever we lived. Back when I was in my teens, everyone said, 'Gee, you have such a natural swing.' But there was never any thought given to playing professionally. There was a ladies tour, but there wasn't much money. Still, I love the competitive aspect of it."

Women's Division

WD - Teed Up and Rolling

What a difference a year makes! In November, 1995, the Maryland State Golf Association voted for the formation of a Women's Division which would be authorized to administer the women's state golf program. Over the course of the 1996 golf season, the eleven-woman board ran the existing women's championships and instituted some new programs, as well.

The Women's Amateur, which was held for the first time in its seventy-five year history on the Eastern Shore, was expanded by two additional flights, giving 56 women the chance to compete for the state's most prestigious women's golf title at Caroline Country Club in Denton. The Women's Amateur at Bonnie View C.C. boasted a large field despite the rainy, damp weather that plagued most of the season and, by October when the Two-Woman Championship was held at Bethesda C.C., nearly forty teams had to be turned away for lack of space.

In response to the increasing numbers of women getting involved in their state golf program, two new events have been scheduled for the 1997 season. The first Two-Woman Mid Handicap Team Tournament will be held in September to catch the overflow from the Two-Woman Championship and to give more women of wider handicap ranges the opportunity and challenge to compete at the state level. The board also reinstated women's state team matches. This event will begin in May, and through local and regional competition, will eventually crown the best women's team in the state.

One of the most popular changes the board made this year was the design and development of a new, gold medallion for amateur champion winners. The medal is cast from a die of the MSGA seal and hand engraved with tournament particulars. Other prizes were revamped as well, and now include crystal and Delft apothecary jars.

The Women's Division also commissioned a new logo that could be worn by all Maryland women golfers. It superimposes a golfer over the distinctive Maryland seal and this year it received a favorable welcome as proven by the brisk sales of windsuits and polo shirts at all Women's Division events.

Women's Division committee chairman have been especially busy in the areas of tournament sites, course and slope rating and rules. All women's tournaments have been sited through 1998 and the 1999 schedule is progressing. The Course and Slope rating committee added three new regional teams, increasing those numbers to five rating teams across the state. A rating seminar is slated for March. In February, the Women's Division will sponsor a one-day comprehensive rules seminar Chartwell, featuring well-known USGA rules instructor Clyde Luther.

A highlight of the year was certainly the Women's Division increased partnership with the USGA. Working closely with the USGA Women's Regional Affairs Manager, Heidi Olson, the WD board applied for a grant from the USGA Foundation. The Women's Division as one of the first associations to be awarded one of the grants, which included walkie-talkies, a state-of-the-art laser range finder, money to enhance the WD newsletter and a sophisticated computer system. The newsletter check was presented at the Women's Division annual luncheon meeting by Carole Semple Thompson, a USGA Executive Committee member and one of the finest women amateurs in America.. ■

MSGA Goes Spikeless

Since the vast majority of venues of 1997 men's and women's events have banned metal spikes, the MSGA itself has passed a ban on the wearing of metal spikes in any MSGA events. Participants arriving with improper shoes will not be permitted to play.

Two-Woman Team

Columbia Women Take Pairs Event

The Columbia Country Club team of Leland Beckel and Beth Carpenter put together nines of 38-38-76 and beat 65 other teams in the 3rd Two Woman Team Championship. A record 110 teams applied for the 66 slots at the newly renovated championship course at Bethesda Country Club.

The winners had five bogeys and a birdie over the 5,900-yard, par-72 course. They did not have to look far for their main competition. Their playing partners of Sharon Briggs and Sheila Dagucon, from Montgomery Village, were the two-time defending champions. A double bogey at the first hole by Briggs-Dagucon gave the eventual winners a little breathing room that they capitalized on.

"We knew who our main competition was, and that bad first hole of theirs really got us rolling. We hit a lot of fairways and greens, and played good solid golf all around." ■

Luncheon Honors Gerry Cush

The MSGA-WD and the Argyle Women's Golf Association teamed up on October 25th to host a luncheon honoring Gerry Cush of Argyle Country Club for her contributions to the golfing community in Maryland. Cush, whose amateur playing credits include nine Argyle club championships, three Maryland Women's Amateur Championships and three Maryland

Women's Senior Championships, was caught by surprise as over 90 guests assembled at Argyle Country Club to celebrate with her.

In speeches by Jack Emich, Executive Director of the MSGA and Pat Kaufman, President of the MSGA-WD, Cush was lauded for her dedicated service to amateur golf over the years, particularly in the area of course and slope rating. Cush was tapped by the MSGA one decade ago to head the women's rating team in the Washington metropolitan area, and she served in that capacity until this past year. In a graceful speech, Cush expressed thanks to all her friends, calling the day one she would never forget. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, Jack Emich and Pat Kaufman, on behalf of the MSGA, presented Cush with a pin, a mantle clock inscribed with the association seal, and a scroll of appreciation. ■

Reflections

Looking back over the first year of the Women's Division, I feel a great sense of pride in the accomplishments of the Women Executive Board, not simply in running tournaments because that level of competence is a given, but in making changes and innovations that have created more opportunities for Maryland women to be involved in their state golf program.

One of our greatest strengths as a state association, I think, is that we are one of only a couple of associations in the entire country that combine men and women in one organization. Over these next few years we'll continue to develop a greater integration of our two boards. We have already shown that men and women can work together very effectively, supporting each other's programs while respecting the differences in them. As that partnership grows, our association will be not only an asset for Maryland golf, but a model for the nation. ■
